Before a downpour of rain, there will be great dark clouds.

Great grace, blessings, redemption and harvest are coming, but at the same time, a deep shaking, uprooting and reforming will also be experienced by many. Be vigilant and discerning. Be prepared. Remain in the Council of God. Humility will enable many to access and then remain in His Council. The humble will be restored and empowered. Do not fear or be anxious with what you see or hear. Intercession is much needed in this hour to uproot the things that are not of God. Things that are not uprooted will be judged. Urgent intercession is much needed in this hour, and it must be done with hearts of love and mercy.

As His rain comes down, the landscape will change. Things will be different, for better and for worse.
