

Children in the Kingdom

When the children are brought up in a spiritual atmosphere we must teach them how to get connected to the spiritual realm instead of putting them into Kid's church, Sunday school, colouring pictures, etc. which will keep them occupied and the parents don't have to worry for a few hours. But are they experiencing anything spiritually? Are they getting connected to the Kingdom? Jesus said, "Let the little children come to me, and do not hinder them, for the Kingdom of Heaven belongs to such as these."

I believe this generation will see God's mighty power manifesting through little children, like Joel prophesied thousands of years ago. Every child in the Kingdom can access the Father's heart and listen to His sweet voice and partner with Him on Earth and fulfil their purpose. God can use them wherever they are. Listening to God's voice will enable the children to develop an intimate relationship with Him at a very young age. From my experience, there's nothing more pleasurable than listening and walking with our heavenly Father. We have to help and teach children to operate, walk and see things in the supernatural. I love to see children going out in to the marketplaces, shopping malls, skate-parks, streets, etc., and touching people's life with God's Kingdom and bringing them into God's family. We have to cultivate a lifestyle starting everyday with Him so we can train the little ones the same way. God will use them in a mighty way because of their humbleness and, moreover, they don't operate with intellectualism.

Kids don't need to be in a back room colouring pictures. Let them colour at home. They can be prophesying, praying for other kids & adults, and witnessing to their friends, fully involved in the outpouring of the Holy Spirit. All they need is our faith that God can use them and our encouragement.
