

The Way Things Should Be

Revealing Ezer

Up until the modern era of Western society, men were required to protect their families, war for their rulers and work for a living in enterprises that required strength and endurance. Married women were involved in child-bearing and child-rearing, and as the less 'muscly' of a set of parents, they mostly remained in the house and the field close by. Today, with technology and an era of peace, the stamina required for living has basically evened the field. As a consequence, there is a move among Western women to find what they consider is their 'real' place in the family and in society.

There is no consensus among 'Kingdom-talking' people on this matter because they appear to be influenced either by society or by their biblical theology. We cannot accept their various views as a basis for moving ahead with this topic. The church's ideas are also unacceptable because they are devoid of a Kingdom perspective. In the Kingdom and outside of Western society, where Rex Lex is the maxim, we need to find out what our King desires in this matter.

According to English Bible translations, Ezer<sup>1</sup> (`ezer [Hb] is pronounced ay-zer) was supplied for Adam as a 'help meet'. Actually the expression should be "a help meet for him"<sup>2</sup>, not 'help meet'. 'Meet' means 'suitable', 'right' or 'proper', not 'meet his needs'. So Ezer was to be a suitable (the right) helper for Adam.

The use of this term 'help meet' for millennia has caused women to be seen as servants of men. They have been treated as disposable items in family clans, rather than being valued for what they contribute to the union. This comes from a misunderstanding of God's intention.

Our English misunderstanding has also come from the improper translation of 'Ezer'. This constantly happens with Bible translations because the translators have their own paradigms, worldviews, pressures and motivations which influence the way they transliterate Hebrew and Greek words into English. Many, many times, the original meaning is lost. For example:

- "On the side of the north"<sup>3</sup> – should read: "On the side of Mt Zephon". Tsaphon (Hb) has been translated as 'north' instead of 'Mt Zephon' (Mt Zephon/Zaphon was Baal's mountain where his throne was said to be located. On the side of the mountain was the city of Bashan, so the text actually means "At Bashan")
- "Plague went before him; pestilence followed his steps"<sup>4</sup> – should read: "Denver went before him; Resheph followed his steps". (Denver and Resheph were Canaanite gods, fallen elohim, who were intent on destroying the Israelites)
- "that prepare a table for that troop, and that furnish the drink offering unto that number"<sup>5</sup> – should read: "who set a table for the false god, Gad, and who fill cups of mixed wine for the false female goddess, Meni," (Gad and Meni were other pagan deities, fallen elohim, the gods of fortune and destiny)

1 – Genesis 2:18

2 – KJV reads like this

3 – Psalm 48:2 (NKJV)

4 – Habakkuk 3:5 (NIV)

5 – Isaiah 65:11 (KJV)

These 3 better translations give more understanding to the text than the normal English translation. The same situation has occurred with the translation of Ezer – the original meaning and impact have been lost in English.

Here's a suitable starting point to understand 'Ezer': In some English translations Ezer is described in different terms to 'help meet' because the Hebrew literally says, “as before him”<sup>6</sup>:

- “Suitable for or appropriate for him” – WEB
- “To be an authority corresponding to him” – ISV

Ezer was given to Adam<sup>7</sup> for a specific purpose which has been lost over time. Corruption due to The Fall has been the main issue, but also living in a non-Edenic, evil world has polluted Ezer’s role so that women are treated as second-class citizens, even in Western society. In many cultures they are slaves, treated as possessions and traded like livestock. This was not God's intention.

What then is an ezer supposed to be like? Robert Misst explains:

“The Hebrew word for “help meet” means not merely a helper in doing lowly and mundane kitchen or office or business tasks, but rather it is a military word that speaks of power and strength in its original ancient meaning. The word ‘ezer’ is a combination of two root words ‘z-r’ to “rescue” or “to save” and ‘g-z-r’ which means “to be strong”. It both cases, the implication is that the wife or the bride exercises authority and strength to do the task of saving and rescuing. It connotes the exercise of strength and power to engage the enemy so that she is able to subdue the adversary.”<sup>8</sup>

When a general/commander goes to war, they need commissioned officers to assist them, to carry out their orders so that the battle plan remains intact. The assistant to the commander is called his ezer – they are THE HELPER TO THE COMMANDER.

Jesus and his ekklesia (The Bride of Christ)<sup>9</sup> are to become a mirror of the union of a man and a woman<sup>10</sup> when they become a single unit<sup>11</sup>. Therefore, the union of a man and a woman must reflect the union of Jesus and his Bride. There is no option to water this down or change it into some form of 21st Century philosophy. The precedent has already been set.<sup>12</sup> Here's how it looks:

“Therefore, if the church or the end-time Bride of Christ is to be made ready in this Last Days, she has to be one that is militant, one that is strong and mighty, one who is a warrior bride! The bride of our Lord Jesus Christ is an assistant or deputy to the Commander in Chief of all the heavenly Hosts! As deputy, she exercises the authority and power vested and delegated upon her by the commander...This is the Bride of Christ! She is a warrior bride!”<sup>13</sup>

Can you see the military role of Adam's Ezer, knowing our relationship with our Commander-in-Chief in his Kingdom army ?

Ezer cannot be a wimp, otherwise she cannot fulfil their military role to be about the commander's business in the conflict. She cannot support the commander unless she is totally committed to the commander's vision and status in the army.

So, let me introduce to you Adam and his Ezer.<sup>14</sup>

As redeemed sons of God, we are both warriors today because of the battle against the Kingdom of Darkness. However, we are primarily administrative sons of God as Adam was originally. We are to administer the Earth for his Kingdom.

So what was Ezer created to do? How was she to function?

Her role was and is to be part of the 2-person team which administrates a particular major Kingdom assignment. This includes all the smaller tasks given to them by our King.

Over the page are “Examples of Ezer in Operation” which demonstrate the level of commitment, loyalty, strength and military prowess which should characterise an ezer today. She’s not a ‘butch’ mercenary as some might want her to be. She is also gentle, loving and motherly, just as her Adam has a mixture of fatherly, leadership and military characteristics.

NOTE: These video clips are examples in the natural realm of what Adam and Ezer are in the spirit realm and in the Kingdom.

There's more to come on this. So hang onto your seat and think soberly on what I've presented here.
