Perhaps the Ancients Weren't So Dumb: A Flood of Evidence Is Embarrassing the 'Experts'

By Eric Metaxas | August 12, 2016 | 3:36 PM EDT

Were the ancients dummies? If so, why does archaeology keep confirming what they wrote? I'll tell you why a healthy dose of humility can help us understand the past.

Germany to tell people to stockpile food and water in case of attacks: FAS

For the first time since the end of the Cold War, the German government plans to tell citizens to stockpile food and water in case of an attack or catastrophe, the Frankfurter Allgemeine Sonntagszeitung newspaper reported on Sunday.

Germany is currently on high alert after two Islamist attacks and a shooting rampage by a mentally unstable teenager last month. Berlin announced measures earlier this month to spend considerably more on its police and security forces and to create a special unit to counter cyber crime and terrorism.

"The population will be obliged to hold an individual supply of food for ten days," the newspaper quoted the government's "Concept for Civil Defence" - which has been prepared by the Interior Ministry - as saying.

A MESSAGE FROM THE COMMISSIONER FOR PUBLIC ADMINISTRATION

Bronwen Overton-Clarke

Colleagues,

Lesbian, Gay, Bisexual, Transgender and Intersex (LGBTI) Inclusion in the ACT Public Service (ACTPS)

In October 2015 we launched a range of resources to support LGBTI Inclusion across the Service (<http://www.cmd.act.gov.au/employment-framework/inclusion-programs/lgbti-inclusion>). In the continued spirit of our commitment to LGBTI Inclusion, I am pleased to advise that new resources are available and LGBTI awareness workshops will take place in September.
