

My Spirit is Moving

“My Spirit is moving and working to bring the Kingdom Age to Earth. Things have begun to shake and shift. Things have started to change and there is a transformation in the spirit realm.

Are you noticing it? The unseen things have always been very real but unknown to many. But as for My sons, you are not like the rest of the world. You are to hear My Spirit and discern the time.

When you live in darkness, you must consciously and intentionally bring in the light.

My sons, are you ready to come out of your hiding place, to rise from where you have been hibernating? You are not to dwell with darkness in fear. It is My power that has empowered you to be and to do the things that My Kingdom has placed in your heart.

I've been preparing you for what is coming. Are you ready to follow me resolutely? Have you begun to let go of lesser things? Have you heard the prompting of My Spirit to put an end to unhelpful plans, unhelpful relationship, and to embrace what I have in store for you? My Kingdom Age comes to deliver and restore, to bring transformation and redemption. I will displace darkness and dispel every power and dominion that has ruled My people.

My sons, I'm calling you to rise to your full potential and the destiny that I have for you. Rise up and take your rightful place in this hour! You are in crucial hours because things will be accelerated for your sake. What are you waiting for?

This new season requires your vigilance. Things that worked before are no longer working. Beware of distractions. Beware of the good things in your life. Do you know that being friendly with the things that are good, but not in My perfect plan for you, can hinder you from walking fully with Me? If your enemies can't take you out, they will do anything to keep you off course. How is your relationship with Me? How discerning is your spirit? Can you hear what I am saying to you?

You are not to think that you're inadequate because you are not. You have been trained and you're ready. Look no more at yourself, your own circumstances, or even your availability for me. Look no more at others with the eyes of comparison and envy. Look no more to others for words of approval or affirmation. Look to Me.

You are not to sit passively, watching life go by, worrying, anxious about what is going to happen next. Passivity is not for the sons of God because, one day, you will rule and reign with Me.

Are you saying that you have nothing to offer? In fact, it's the opposite. People around you have given you the impression that you are not qualified. Even you have thought that of yourselves. But you are more than qualified because you have been redeemed by My blood. I have an open Heaven waiting before you. It has always been there waiting for you to courageously take your position. My Spirit has been training you, but you say you can't receive. Step out in faith and begin to be led by My Spirit. Be bold, be courageous and be strong in Me. I use all your past mistakes and even failures, and I also use your present weaknesses for My glory. Do not doubt nor hesitate. I use everything for My glory if you have faith in Me. Nothing, and I mean absolutely nothing, is impossible for Me; only if you trust absolutely in Me.

So rise up to all that I have called you to be. Enter into your destiny now because this is your time. Rise up where you are. Rise up within the person that you are. Rise up where you are planted and do it now! Not later, but right now! Not when you think you are ready. Not where you think you want to be, and not even when you think your circumstances are at all favourable to you.

Be undaunted and vigilant. Be strong. Be courageous and bold. You must not allow fear to cause you to take the stance of self-preservation. Be fierce, but also be passionate and stay committed to the cause. Fight for your home and your neighbours, and fight for those who cannot fight for themselves. Fight for those who have been deceived, and for those who persecuted you, for I love them too and desire to see them come to the truth. My Kingdom is about transformation and redemption, and My Spirit is moving and working to bring the Kingdom Age to Earth.

Love and be kind. Let love lead, guide and comfort you. Watch your heart, and do not let it be hardened by what you hear and see around you. My lead and my voice are the only things you are to focus on. Do not let your heart be hardened because of what they did to you, but keep your heart strong but tender before me. Keep your eyes on Me, on My promises and My rewards. If you allow your heart to be hardened, things will get harder for you.

My sons, you have been given the power and authority, so walk in them. This power and authority must be walked out in your everyday life. Be like my Son and represent meekness, gentleness, goodness, kindness, compassion and love. Walk in a manner worthy of My indwelling.

You must know My will to fight against the enemies' lies that shroud My people. Are you prepared to take my people through this time into what I have for them? Are you prepared to declare the Word of Heaven to My people so they can stand secure in My truth and see My glory come in their midst? Do not be taken by surprise or put off by opposition and counterfeits that come from unexpected sources. Walk with Wisdom and Truth. You must believe, agree and confess the things that you know in your spirit that comes from My heart. Decree them without hesitation and doubt. I dwell in you and you dwell in Me. Is there anything too difficult for you?

You will know the peace that I promise you when you walk in My perfect will without distraction. Beware of distractions which come as seemingly good things that appear like they are My perfect will for you. It is by living in My perfect will that you will experience true freedom, peace and fruit.

Focus not on your lack and inadequacies but on Me. Fear not for I have redeemed you. Do you know where you should begin in this season? You should begin with Me. I should be the sole focus in your life. Continue with Me, move in Me, live in Me and finish with Me. Do you get the idea?

An adventure that is full of excitement is waiting for you. It's time to let My will be done on Earth. Work with the angelic hosts, and never allow yourself to lose your sense of wonder and humility. Be childlike, but also be like mature sons in My house. Be strong and courageous.

Get on board, only then will your destiny be realised. Remember that I am a redemptive God, so stay focussed on me.”
