

More on this Current Time in the Kingdom (23-12-2018)

Following on from the prophetic insight I was given concerning the current season we are in where the Forerunners are leading the vanguard for the restoration of all things,¹ I continue to receive more information about it. Here's an update.

Rick Joyner

“When I went through the valley before we did not have the mandate to seek out the enemy and attack his strongholds. Why is it different now? Is it because you are on a different level? Or is it because the times have changed?”

“As much as I might be prone to think the former, I think it is the latter – the times have changed. We are getting close to the last battle. I think the church has been wandering in the wilderness just enduring until now, but we are now at our Jordan River. It is time to fight for our inheritance.

“We are no longer to avoid any evil stronghold in our Father's land. The world and all it contains belongs to The Lord, not the Devil. It is now the time to fight for it. When Israel came to the Jordan River to cross it and fight for their land, it said that the Jordan River overflowed its banks all of the days of the harvest. The Jordan River represents death, which is why it was the place where both John and Jesus baptized. Death will overflow its banks all the days of the harvest at the end of the age. That is why our preparation for the last battle requires that we pass through this Valley of the Shadow of Death.”²

“Specially prepared apostolic type forerunners have been planting the pattern in pioneers in recent decades. Beginning as of the 8th of November, 2018, a new strategic season was birthed. The flood of Kingdom love is flowing a totally new and sometimes very different atmosphere into the hearts of prepared pioneers. It is bringing wise and powerful systems of heaven's order, changing how we think and move. In 2019, we are moving forward and upward into more of Kingdom reality.

Severe change in 2019, as the new season of Kingdom continues to interrupt the status quo with divine ways of thinking, doing, and being. Love will replace fear and hate. Many who secretly and inwardly despised others who are different will experience the love power of God changing their hearts.

The new ways will provide a new foundational purpose and value to life in this world. Instead of the foundation of each individual's personal concern for well-being and pleasure driven desires, the guiding purpose of life will rest upon the foundation of love for God, love for his people, and love for his created world.

Whether we have little or a lot, whether we are abased or abounding will not affect our demeanor. The love power of God will sustain and enable us to complete the assignment God has given into our hands.³

The new concepts and ideas flowing in on the Spirit airways will be quickly activated and implemented into our hearts and lives in 2019.

*In the years beyond 2019, the fullness of these new strategies will fully take hold in this world. This will move the Kingdom into the settlement and establishment stage in which that which was planted inwardly and grew deep roots will grow up into the order of the land.

This world is the site upon which the Kingdom of God, Kingdom of heaven is being built. The great mountain of the Kingdom cannot be set upon any religious or secular structure that currently exists. At best, and generally speaking, the major religions of the world have been a sort of ground covering preserving the site. Each of them have had some measures of truth as an improvised temporary structure or covering mixed with the weakness of darkness and lack.

The clearing of the land is part of the preparation that could not be done until the Spirit reality of the Kingdom was implanted in the hearts and lives of the forerunners and the pioneers. The ways of God's Kingdom will now begin to be planted in the settlers who will be less mobile than the forerunners and pioneers. However, they will be more specific and detailed as the practical establishment of the Kingdom in the land is in their hands.

The ground covering along with the darkness and weakness (i.e. weeds) growing up within the ground covering must be removed. All that is within the religions and secular structures that was not planted by God is being plucked up by the angels.⁴

Those things that are of God must be transformed, regenerated, made new by the love power of the word of the Kingdom. Many believers who receive the word of the Kingdom will be changed and will transition into the new Kingdom reality.

Many, if not multitudes of believers, who will not make the transition will be taken to their reward in heaven. This is not a bad thing. It is a God-thing for them. Simply their work on Earth will be finished as they enter into the rest of God in heaven. Even Kingdom forerunners will be leaving, as pioneers and settlers continue the work in the Kingdom establishment.⁵

The magnitude of this Earth cleansing is beyond the grid of human understanding. It cannot be viewed from the perspective of human limited understanding and earthly values. Only from beneath the shadow of the Almighty, deeply in love with God as one viewing from his perspective of heaven on Earth, can we see the end of the wicked and live.⁶ ...

In this time of transition we are supercharged with the love, strength, and power from heaven to accomplish uncommon miracles of the works of Christ to sustain, protect, and deliver the people of God. Grace empowerment beyond our imagination will be upon and within those who remain. Holy angels will have charge over us. Our hearts will not fail, but we will continuously bask in the love-power of perfect peace in the midst of apocalyptic cataclysmic events.

There will be NO FEAR for our lives nor for the lives of anyone or anything else. There will be NO FALSE responsibility to protect the wicked. The love of God sustains us at all times. All of the people of God who are lost from the world are immediately with God in heaven.

Truly this is one of the most glorious of historical times on Planet Earth as the rule of heaven is being reinstated over all creation in this world.”⁷

Ron McGatlin (20-12-2018)

“That which is perhaps the most damaging error or lack that has limited the fulfillment of the mission of Christ on earth is now in this season being corrected.

The Church centric religious works and practices of the past have separated God from the governance of life especially in the USA and the western world. Governance of life in this world by God through His people as He intended it to be was lost. Without God the people of the western world were left to develop alternate ways and philosophies of governance of life. The kingdom of God is the rule of God in Christ abiding in and with His people....In other words the kingdom is the governance of God intricately involved in the love, power, and wisdom of God working in the personal and corporate relationships of life.

The great news of this season of the history of God and man on earth is that the church emphasis age of God separated from the practical business of life in this world is over. Church as it has been is fading away, and the EKKLESIA of Christ Jesus Yeshua Messiah in and with His people is becoming reality in this world.

The separation of God's life and presence from the business of life is coming to an end. The Babylonian style of governance in personal life, family life, business life, and all other facets of life on earth is in a sense self-destructing as the loving fire of God reduces it to ashes.

All life is becoming as one under the one head of Christ Jesus, the King of glory in the kingdom of God on earth as it is in heaven.

The love of God is dismantling the rule of the religious order of the passing church systems, while at the same time raising up the relational reality of the loving kingdom of God in all aspects of life on earth.

God's loving order of family is the basic designed order for all governance in this world. All activity of community and business flows in the order of loving family. As the family is, so is the culture of the nations and the world. The order of the family is the order of the world.

The current disorder and breakdown of the family and the subsequent breaking down of national order and governance is the direct result of the lack of the presence of God ruling in the hearts of individuals, families, business, and all facets of life.

The now reordering of national and world order is the results of the presence of God beginning to rule in the individual lives, families, business, and all facets of life...

The kingdom of God is within us and is coming forth in the world. The corrected kingdom order of all things has begun in our day. In the Spirit we can now see and experience the fullness of the kingdom of heaven on earth. As we live by the Spirit and walk in the Spirit, we are a part of the kingdom coming forth on earth.

My personal assignment here in this world is to point the way as a part of the prophetic age of beginning world transformation. Many of you reading this will be on earth to see much more fulfillment of the progressing kingdom of God reality manifesting on earth.

Never despair nor fear as the old world order crumbles in the fire of God and the beauty of the kingdom arises from the ashes before you. Beyond the old and ahead of you is the beautiful lush garden of the full reality of the kingdom of God on earth as it is in heaven.”⁸

“If you know that you are a new species, and you live like that, and you live as a Kingdom citizen, you'll not be phased by the world around you. You'll be able to live in any type of society – good, bad, or 'ugly' – and it will not change the way you operate. It will not impact your heart, your soul or your mind. Why? Because you are stable.

You are a different species. You live in the world around you, you impact it and touch it with the Kingdom, but life goes on. Your Kingdom life is not impaired by that. Major shake-ups and major catastrophes will not cause you to falter because your relationship, your personal intimate relationship, with the King is so strong and so real (not just knowledge), and your experience of relying on him totally for everything that you can handle whatever comes.

What I'm talking about is where we have to get to. We are not there now, but this is what's in front of us: The reality of life in the Kingdom.

Jesus is our prototype, he's our benchmark. That's what we have to aspire to – and I don't mean aspire by desiring to – but by actually working towards it: Allowing yourself to be moulded, shaped and changed; allowing yourself to be tested and tried; allowing yourself to experience assignments of varying levels; of focussing on your Kingdom life; of positioning yourself to be that new species; to be Jesus as he was.

It's not unattainable. We can think it is because we've been taught that Jesus was a God-man, but the God part of him was his spirit that was in him. He gave up his deity and he did everything as a human being, as a new species, the first new species since Adam. We see it in his response to Pilate where he said that he had the potential to wipe him out, and Rome as well. But he didn't, because he had a purpose. Because of his relationship with Father and because the angelic realm knew who he was in the spirit they could've wiped out all opposition to him. But he chose in meekness (because that's what meekness is, not using your power when you don't need to) he submitted to what Father wanted. We've got to get beyond seeing Jesus as a God-man and seeing him as the first Spirit-filled powerhouse that we are to aspire to.

"As we move into this new era of the Kingdom, the way the Kingdom is operating on the face of the Earth, you will need to be at rest and be at peace. I will not be able to work through you to the full capacity that I want to without that. Peace and rest are vital. Why? Because there will be turmoil and extreme opposition for where I am taking you. You will not be able to cope with this resiliently unless I am everything to you.

While ever you chase after your needs elsewhere in life, you will be distracted from the task at hand. You will not be able to move forward with me and my plans because you will default to the way you normally meet your needs, which means you will chase after things and you will not be focused on me.

This new season that we're in, a long-term season, will crescendo to something that is bigger and bigger and bigger. [But unless]¹⁰ you can learn to totally trust me, rely on me, align with me and enter into my peace and my rest, you will find that where I am taking you will be all too hard.

*So I lay that down before you 'on the table'. You need to pick it up and move with it."*¹¹

"I heard the Lord say that He has been preparing a powerful remnant to arise out of the ashes of battle. They are now been assigned individual responsibility to defeat strongholds and gates on this earth that have kept their generation in lack and in wandering. The Lord is comforting them as their trials and tests were severe. His hand on their past generations was heavy.

Yet He grew their characters when they were in the place of Kadesh-Barnea. Their forefathers left their assignments undone because they grew weary in their call and compromised their destiny falling short of how much more God had planned for them. They let the enemy get a foothold and settle in the land that was theirs. Therefore, their children and the generations that came after felt the onslaught of the enemy and could not cross over to take the land God had for them. Many perished due to disobedience and lack of wisdom.

But the Lord says, "This remnant generation that has pushed through, believing and preserving, will enter in. They have entered into a covenant of Hebron (meaning friendship) with me. Their wandering days are over. My glory and strength will be released and revealed through them. For they are my precious sons and daughters who kept the faith despite it all..."

The Lord says, "These small remnants are mighty in my hand, mighty warriors. They are being called up and out of grave isolation, up and out of severe discouragement, up and out of deep disappointment as they did not quit trusting and believing My word for their generation even though they went through these tangible emotions. They are My forerunners and My forward-thinkers."

I then heard the thundering voice of the Lord as He spoke and flattened the mountains of strongholds and raised up the valleys of hope to take out the enemy with one blow that laid stake to His people's land. The Lord Himself made a way for them out of the desert of wandering and into their promised land.

The Lord then told me that the sins of their forefathers have been forgiven, and the heavens that were once like brass over them are now open. They are crossing over into 2019 with the Lord Himself blessing them to 1000 generations...

The Lord says, "These small but powerful remnants are stronger, more determined and have weathered the storm. No storm can take them out, because they were forged in the fires of great adversity. I have had My eye on them to ensure that their lives were preserved because of their undeniable faith in Me.

"As they cross over, they are entering places of great influence, places of significant authority. I am placing them strategically around the world to be catalysts of change, like my secret agents.

*"Great kingdom influencers are arising in every nation, in every city and in every community. They are crossing over into 2019 like an army taking the land of the enemy one city at time for the kingdom of the Lord. They have accepted their call; they have accepted their assignments; and they will not compromise, and that's why God chose them. They are going to take every place the Lord is giving them, every place their feet touch, every territory that the enemy stole from their ancestors as the Lord blesses them a hundredfold. A powerful remnant is crossing over to possess their land in 2019, and the Lord their God is leading the charge." "*¹²

"The context for this restoration is found in our position as sons. If we are not restored, then neither will the rest of creation be restored. The restoration of all things begins with Jesus working in us now, and not in a future event of his coming sometime in the future. So much of religion has put everything off until some future day, with the result that past generations have missed out on what God intended for them – and present and future generations are at risk of doing the same. Let's recognise that restoration is taking place in us, through us and around us as we embrace our sonship..."

Religion has put the emphasis on God doing everything because He is sovereign and it has given no consideration to the fact that He has made us co-heirs. The truth is, we are sons of God, called and chosen to be participators and not just bystanders and observers in this process of restoration. It is not that we are getting delusions of grandeur and suddenly deciding we want to be like God: this is what He intended all along.

As God's sons we need to know what His original plan and purpose is. We need to understand what we are co-heirs of, and what we have responsibility for, so that we can fulfil our proper role in the government of the kingdom...

Whatever God's intended for mankind, this planet was just the beginning of it. The restoration of all things goes beyond the earth to include all of creation. Consider the implications of that!

This whole topic is going to challenge and stretch our mindsets and our belief systems. As we begin to grasp the truth, it will shake us free from the limitations and restrictions put on us in the past and release us into the fullness of God's original intent and purpose. Revelation of that truth will only come through relationship, through becoming 'intimately acquainted with the love of Christ on the deepest possible level' as the Mirror Bible says in Ephesians 3:16.

*You cannot take my word for any of this; you need revelation, not information..."*¹³
