

Who Will be Left Behind as the Kingdom Advances?

Recently I was asked, “Who will be left behind?” This wasn’t referring to the supposed pre-Second-Coming rapture, but about those who will not move forward in this new era¹ of the Kingdom. It has indicated to us that there will be a remnant in the last days² who genuinely follow Jesus, and as a precursor to that, we have been advised by the Spirit that many will not move ahead with the King right now.³

When asked the question I gave an answer from what has been revealed to me and from what happened in the OT, but I needed to know the answer. So, in my spirit and mind I had this question and I waited for the Lord to advise me in what type of believer it would be who lost traction.

Those who will be left behind fall into 3 groups:

- (A) Those who aren’t interested
- (B) Those who are not prepared
- (C) Those who give up

The following is what I understand at this point in time.⁴ Items with these symbols have been brought to my attention (★)⁵ or have been received in a prophetic message (✳)⁶.

1. Those who aren’t interested

- They are in the church system
- They are religious
- They are legalistic
- Their guidance is ‘Holy scripture’
- They don’t have a Kingdom paradigm shift
- They are waiting for the rapture
- They are into ‘good works’
- They are into the social gospel
- They belong to a counter-Kingdom organisation – e.g. masons, Labour, the Greens, Green Peace, Gaia

2. Those who are not prepared (They have a Kingdom mindset but...)

- They can’t hear clearly from Heaven
- They aren’t taught by our King through Holy Spirit
- The Kingdom isn’t a priority
- Israel is their focus
- Church is their focus
- Politics is their focus
- Political correctness (PC) consumes/drives them – esp. women’s, anti-racism & trans-sexuality movements
- They adhere with the current world values – e.g. socialism, left-wing values, no fixed ethics
- They believe that Kingdom expansion other than evangelism happens when Jesus returns
- Sonship is not their identity
- They don’t live as Kingdom citizens

- Kingdom supply is not what they rely on – i.e. they are self-reliant or employment/government reliant
- They are critical-spirited
- They aren't extravagant givers
- Following Kingdom principles is not their way of operating
- Being about Father's (the King's) business is not their governing priority
- Life isn't seen as a series of processes for growth & development
- Spiritual maturity is not a priority
- Sound teaching doesn't stick with them
- Sound teaching and prophetic messages aren't inculcated in their life
- They 'ride' on the spirituality of others
- They follow a leader/pastor rather than the King
- Their emotional woundedness and pain manipulates their lives them – they haven't been healed

3. Those who give up

- Family and love ones draw them away – these are their allegiance, not the King & his Kingdom
- Persecution becomes too much
- The attacks of the enemy dishearten them
- ★ They become destitute: Prevented from working for a living – the Kingdom isn't their supplier
- ★ They become destitute: Prevented from operating a business – the Kingdom isn't their supplier
- ★ They become destitute: Their assets are frozen or confiscated – the Kingdom isn't their supplier
- ✳ They won't mature as sons
- ✳ The King takes his hand off them
- They are unable to manifest the Kingdom
- They are unable to impact others with the Kingdom

NOTE: Although these type of people will be left behind as the Kingdom advances in this new era, they are not excluded. There's always the opportunity for them to 'wake up to themselves', get the 'vision' and catch up with the vanguard.
