

At this Time Keep your Focus on the King and the Kingdom

At our monthly Forerunner meetings I use the opportunity to inform you of things that are going on around you and also in the world at large. The purpose of this is to reduce our ignorance which would result in us being 'taken for a ride' by those manipulating our lives in the background. I categorize all this knowledge under the heading of 'Understanding The Times' so that we, like the sons of Issachar, know what we "ought to do" at any given moment.¹

Now what I just wrote is a contradiction. Why? Because in the New Covenant we have the Spirit as our guide, who can tell us at any time what we ought to do. As this is the case, why do I keep providing up-to-date information at Forerunner gatherings?

The operative word is "can tell us". With so many of the followers of Jesus unable to hear the Spirit clearly and not in the habit of asking the Spirit for directions, I must provide knowledge so that decisions can be made in the natural which are more in line with the Kingdom.

The other reason is that, as sons, we must be able to converse with people in our community on any topic that we should be familiar with as global citizens. We must not be ignorant of current events. As sons, we have been given the job of planet managers, so we must be well versed in what's going on in our domain so we are able to lead others in the right direction.

In the not-too-distant future, these people will be coming to those they can see have accurate information on the current times and will ask their advice. They will come to the sons who are aligned with and instructed by the Spirit. These sons will be people with uncommon knowledge, prophetic advice and will be able to problem-solve with the wisdom of heavenly insight.

How has this information been useful?

Here's an example from our brother York Walsch. About 10 years ago Holy Spirit had him sit down at his computer and he directed him on the Internet to discover a great deal of 'hidden' goings on. Holy Spirit showed him where to look, day after day, for an extended period of time. With this information he has been able to fine-tune his life and to advise others (including us) of what we need to know.

Recently, Jose told me that knowledge of current affairs paves the way for him to speak about the Kingdom. This happens as he 'destroys the construct of the enemy over people's lives through fear' about national and world events. He said, "When a person gives me access to come into their home and I enter into it with the Kingdom of God and I'm presented with an issue that needs to be confronted or dealt with, then I can pull it down on behalf of the Kingdom. The kingdom of darkness is displaced from their environment."

All that I've written so far is all fine and good. However, there's a tendency for us to get sidetracked by what's going on around us. This is our human nature and we must avoid it. Our focus has always to be on the King and the Kingdom. Everything else must follow the order of responsibilities, family, employment, remainder.

Jose and York are 2 Kingdom citizens who are allowing themselves to be given knowledge of current affairs which they use for other's welfare and their own lives. Both are strong followers of Holy Spirit's leading, so they aren't controlled by what's happening around them. Both have experienced strong attacks of the enemy because they are a threat.

Similar distractions come from focussing on the teachings of one person, whoever they are, and whatever their spiritual standing. The Kingdom way is for Holy Spirit to guide you towards good spiritual food, while the focus and allegiance should be on the King as your supplier. That way, you can be taught what he wants, rather than what a person wants you to know.

1 – 1 Chronicles 12:32

I've been sidetracked before and it equates to lost time. As a consequence I will now fail to completely enter my Kingdom destiny. I will only go so far, but not all the way because I'll run out of time.

So, for us, we need to be familiar with a lot of topics, but to know the details of only those themes the Spirit leads us to. In this case we must know it's the Spirit guiding us in that direction and we must allow him to show us what to know and when to stop taking it in. For example, it's OK to know about: The real origin of COVID-19; flat Earth theory; the Elite's program of world domination; President Trump's governance and opposition; etc. BUT, these must not be at the expense of our life in the Spirit, our maturity as a son, or fulfilling our Kingdom assignments.

REMEMBER: The Kingdom overrides everything else, and, our basic mode of operation is to be in alignment with Heaven.

Let's get our priorities right
