

The Restoration of All Things Must First Begins with Us

In the same way that ‘The Kingdom’ can become a theology rather than a reality in our lives, as it’s meant to be, so it can be with ‘The Restoration of All Things’. We can acknowledge that our King is going to restore the planet to some level or other through Father’s sons, and we can speak and teach on it, but it must become a reality to us. It’s not a concept, it’s our prime function as sons. We’re meant to participate in it.

The first reality to understand is that this restoration must start with our lives. If we are to be used in restoring the natural realm, we have to be transformed ourselves so the life energy of Heaven can flow out of us to cause the transformation. That’s how it happens. We don’t do anything. We can’t do anything to restore the planet and the cosmos. If we think that we can do it ourselves, we’ve picked up on the Gaia¹ message, the religion² of environmentalists.

The beginning of our own restoration is not a religious or legalistic activity – that’s just failed “dead works”. It actually starts with an intimate relationship with the members of the Trinity, which matures into oneness. In oneness, as we learn to have them live their lives through us, we are radically transformed from the inside out. They are then able to have their life energy flow through us to those around us and also to the planet and all living things.

This may sound like New Age religious ‘speak’, but that’s their counterfeit form of the Kingdom reality. Satan will use his people to divert Father’s purpose in people’s lives so they can’t participate in the genuine restoration process. Satan always works with deception.

Here’s father’s call to be restored ourselves, before we can begin to see The Restoration of All things happening worldwide.

“As I restore you, you will also see me restore your family...As you keep your heart before me, allowing me to purify you, you will see change happen that you cannot orchestrate yourself. When you walk in wholeness, you’re able to love with perfect love—love that expects nothing in return, love that loves without any agenda. Don’t rehearse the problems of others, but come in humility, so I can change you. Set love as a torch that burns in your heart, and you will see the restoration of all things.”³

NOTE: The restoration will slowly begin over time as many, many sons are transformed. It’s a mass action effect, not an individualistic activity. This is a concept we’ll need to get a grip on, so we don’t get disheartened.
