

Heaven's Supply Requires Kingdom Participation

Things have changed in this new era of the Kingdom. That's because the Kingdom is operating differently in certain areas. Having come out of the Church Age into the Kingdom Age (so to speak), Heaven's focus is on the sons of God, not the church organisation or on religious activity.

The Trinity is still loving every human being, still looking after believers, but the close working relationship and the supply of resources of every kind is reliant on believers aligning with Heaven.

It is no longer enough just to believe in Jesus. We have to move with the Kingdom and desire to mature in our sonship so that the unlimited resources of Heaven are made available to us. This is not because Father's heart has changed, but because he's wanting us to change our attitude and allegiance to align with his plans.

What I've written may sound heretical, but those who have ears to hear what the Spirit is saying will know that this is the new paradigm.

Therefore, we don't give up. We change, align with heaven, and 'run harder' (expend more energy) in our life under the King's oversight. Those who do make the changes will find that the Kingdom empowers them to achieve what needs to be achieved.

This has been confirmed in many ways. Here's a recent one:

*"Don't stop. Don't quit the race. Run the race in such a way that you will win it. Run and you shall find that you have extreme energy and extreme speed because I will anoint you with My purposes in this dispensation and in this very time that you find yourself in. Run the race now to receive everything I have for you."*¹
