

It's All About Him, Not About Me

Here we are again - together again today. I choose to be with you because I love you and desire to be with you. We have a lot to do today in the spiritual realm so it's good that you've spent time with me this morning - conversing, loving, enjoying each other's company. You gain strength in this way that we meet. I feed your spirit when we connect this way and it sustains you through the day and into the night. Keep meeting with me and I'll keep sustaining you - it's a 'fait accompli' that this works. Spend more time with me and you'll see it work even better. You'll become even stronger and more powerful - not with pride, but with my power that emanates from me to you. Keep close. The enemy is prowling and looking to devour you (make you ineffective in your work for me). Don't be afraid - he can't hurt you while you're under the shadow of my wings - your place of safety and strengthening. Keep staying in this place, this cave of calm, and you'll progress as you've never progressed before.

Now is the time of your advancement. I'm moving you on into new levels, new appointments - heavenly appointments - where you'll meet people who will impact your life for your future work. Not that there's no work to do now (today), but networks of connections are vital for you to enter into what I have planned for you. You don't work in isolation - you work with others. We all partner together and our unity of purpose is what gets the jobs done for my Kingdom - you, me and them. It's essential that you realise this - you're not an island, a self-sufficient person. You must integrate into the mass of people who are all pulling together with me to bring the future into the present - to bring Father's will to be manifest on Earth.

It's a great day to work in the Kingdom. Enjoy your time today and don't be discouraged because things aren't going the way you'd like to see them. You see, it's all about me - not about you. It's all about my timing and how you allow yourself to fit in with my timing. Don't advance too fast. Don't lag behind. Keep abreast of me because I'm moving (working) at Heaven's pace, not yours. You need to realise this at a greater level so inspiration doesn't miss you and fall to the ground because you're 'out of sync' with me. Inspiration (my rhema to you) is essential for the tasks ahead. My downloads to you will guide you through 'thick and thin' - through good and bad times. It's always there for you, waiting to be acted upon so that you enter in - enter into everything prepared for you. There's great things planned, so enjoy today, enjoy the time, enjoy the progress you are making with me, alongside me, as we travel through life, through time together.

Laurence

7-3-2013

(www.CanberraForerunners.org)

COPYRIGHT

*This document is free to copy, republish and distribute, but only 'as is'. It is free to quote from at length.
All Canberra Forerunners' documents are licensed under Creative Commons Attribution-NonCommercial-NoDerivs 3.0 Unported License*

(Readers will need to look up for themselves any scriptures alluded to in this document)