

Time to Enter into Leadership

My son, now is the time of your advancement - haven't I advised you of this? Harness my energy, my strength as you'll need it for what's ahead. The days ahead are victorious, but it requires you to connect with me at all times - at all times. Not a day must go by without our connection. The electricity must flow from me to you to drive your motor that gets you to where you must be in the spiritual realm and the natural realm.

Lean on me, learn from me - as you have been doing. This is good and perfect for what I have planned for you.

Maybe you feel like you're a failure at this walk - this life in me. You are not. You're my special person with special attributes, talents and gifting. I have special work for you and only you can complete it.

Listen. Listen to me. Listen to me only. Voices will try to derail you from the tasks set before you, but you must not listen. This is vital. A vital statistic is flowing in the Spirit - resting in me, obeying me. This is where success lies. This is where achievement is achieved. Not in your strength, but in mine - not yours but mine. Always mine, always mine. Never yours, and never will be.

All that I have for you is good - good for you and those who you minister to and lead.

Speaking of leading, now is your time to enter into the leadership you've always wanted, you've always craved. You knew within yourself, in your heart, that I was preparing you for important (big) leadership roles. You were right, that has been my plan all along. You failed on occasions in the past because you took your eyes off me. No more - never do that again. I am the source - the Alpha and Omega. All things are consummated in me, so the consummation of your leadership will always be in me - always in me.

Don't turn to the right or the left, keep going straight ahead. I will show you the path in front of you so you stay on track and don't deviate. This is where you'll really have to trust me. The distant future will be 'foggy', but your steps in front of you will be clear. Take those steps and ignore the 'fog'. Don't focus on the 'fog' and try to guess where you need to go or what you need to do. The 'fog' is a mist-ery (pun) that you won't fathom. It's your immediate steps you must (have to) focus on - not the future. The future is mine and I have it in the palm of my hand. I have your hand also and I'm drawing you into my future for you - a glorious future, a bright future, full of glory and treats for you. Yes, treats. You'll enjoy what I have for you, like you enjoyed the treats you were given as a boy. Treats are usually unexpected and bring great joy. Look for these, keep an eye out for them. They will encourage you as you enjoy the walk - the ride - with me.

Look ahead, only to me. Keep me as your focus, not your ministry. Ministries can fail, and they do all the time. Your prime responsibility is to focus on me and to partner with me. It's not to go it alone or in your own strength - but my strength, as I've already said.

These days are evil, but you will shine - shine like a star in the firmament. In my hands I will polish you - refine you - so you will shine for me. My glory will radiate from you as you have desired. This is a good desire - a great desire - not one to withhold from. You were created to bring glory to me, my son, and it's glory that you will bring.

You also bring me pleasure as we work together - toiling at life and ministry. I enjoy partnering with you and giving you responsibility. You work well with me, despite your constant falterings. Take heart and give all yourself to me. Love, Father.
