

Stage 2 of What Father is Doing with His Sons in this New Era of the Kingdom

We learnt that Father is taking us on a journey full of processes to transform us into becoming mature sons.¹

This is what we were meant to be in the first place – genuine sons, mature, being about his business and functioning as vice regents of the planet.

Jesus exemplified this. He gave us the example of growing in wisdom and stature and then operating with power and authority. He also demonstrated compliance, humility and meekness². These are all traits we learn on our journey into maturity.

Jesus also demonstrated stage 2 of our maturation process: He trained a few disciples.

Stage 2 for us is to train others to become mature so they can enter into everything that Father has for them – i.e. his destiny for them. It's important to realize that we were sent to this planet and placed in physical bodies, after being with Father in Heaven, having been given a life's assignment to complete.

Rick Joyner was shown this task prophetically as he took a group to the Mountain of God in a series (?) of visions.

Here's part of a conversation Rick had while taking a group on his second trip to the Mountain of God:

“It is my purpose to make the opposing positions clear. That is one way that you, and all who come here, will prepare the way for the Lord in this time. The world is entering the Valley of Decision, and all must choose between the light and the darkness. It has been a basic purpose of the evil one to blur all distinctions that God has made. However, those distinctions are about to be made clear by the messengers of power, and all will be forced to choose.”

“For you to be here now, the Lord's return is obviously near,” I said.

“His coming is near,” the Voice replied while picking up the pace, “and there is much to be done.” ...

“Throughout this age, the mountain [of God] has been in continuous battle. It is always under assault from the enemy because it is the greatest threat to his domain. The mountain is also growing just as Daniel foresaw, but you will recognize it. Through these years since you were there you have been helping to build it.”

“How is that?” I inquired.

“You helped some of the builders on their way to the mountain. You have helped more than you know to find the mountain, and they have been busy with the work of the Lord. You have more friends there than you realize,” the Voice said.

“That is encouraging. In recent years I have had many failures with the ones I had such hope for. It’s been hard not to wonder...”

“If anything you’ve done has made a difference” the Voice finished my sentence.

Again, the Voice stopped, turned, and looked me straight in the eyes, which I had learned he would do before he was to say something of great importance.

“Some who you think of as great failures you will find on the mountain. Some have been diverted from the path, but they will find their way back. All that you taught them they will remember, and it will help them...”

The path continued to get wider as we walked. I was about to ask about this when we broke out of the forest into the open. There was a beach in front of us, and a large luxury cruise ship was offloading passengers nearby. The place felt familiar, and then I recognized it as the same place from which I had entered the wilderness before.

“What are we doing back here?” I asked. “I thought we were on the path to the mountain?”

“This is the path to the mountain,” the Voice said, pointing to the place where I had entered before.

“I know, but I have already been through that part of the wilderness, and I sure do not want to go through it again. Did we just walk in a big circle? Did I fail the test of this wilderness so that I must go through it again?”

“You did not fail. This is the next test, and it is a bigger one. You cannot go further until you have brought others as far as you have gone.”

“So I must go through the same trials again?”

“Yes, but they should be much easier for you this time, though the journey will likely be more difficult.”

“How will the trials be easier, but the journey more difficult?” I asked.

“It will be easier because you will not forget to drink the living water. It will be harder because you will have these with you,” the Voice said, pointing to those getting off of the ship.”³
