

Now is Just as Important as the Future

Today is a day of importance - importance for you and for me. We will work together as one. We will operate as I have chosen. This is important for you to reach the standard (level) you need to be in for the future - for the 'now' and for the future. 'Now' is just as important as the future because the 'now' determines your future. Focus on 'now' and let me guide you into the future. Don't plan, just relax and let me take you there. There is no rush. Time has been proceeding at my pace - it is not determined by you and your faithfulness. Although faithfulness is essential (critical), it is not determining your future. The future is in my hands and in my plans. Faithfulness relates to our relationship, not my plans for action. Sure, our relationship impacts the future, but it doesn't determine it.

Relax and enjoy the ride - as I have said before. The road is easy if you trust me ultimately (completely). See, I've been coaching and training you for this day. It's time to blossom (burgeon) and increase your domain - the area of your influence. This influence is for me to work in, through you, it's not for your glory. You will give me glory when you work in this area (at this level) without even trying - it will just flow from you (out of you).

Today, listen to me - listen intently to what I have to say. There are tasks (jobs) to do that require your undivided attention. Don't look at your past failures. Remember: "No regrets". Look to me so I can guide you. I want to be your only guide, so there are no distractions (deviations). Keep on target, as hitting the bulls-eye is the aim (purpose). You need to hit the target more often so that there are implications (effects) in the spiritual realm. Those shots will advance the Kingdom and deplete the enemy's influence. Keep focussed, as you have been.

You are longing to get going - to get into action. Well, here we are - now's the time. Get ready. Do your best. Focus on me and the tasks. Success is not as allusive as you think. Keep the right attitude and 'abound' as I have shown (directed) you. This is simply the life I have for you - abundant life. Just abound in me and see the results filter in between the cracks in your armour, plugging them and stabilizing you. I hope you understand this. It's about restoration and repair.

Live abundantly and my abundance will chase you down and overtake you. You will not be able to contain it. The resources of Heaven are mine - all the resources - so there is no limit to what I can do or provide for you. You've had a little taste of the future, now is the time to start entering in and receiving. All, of course, for my sake, the Kingdom's sake, not yours. Remember this. Keep focussed - it's all about me. I am your supplier, I am your Lord. I love to supply your needs and you've indicated and shown that this is the way you want it to be. Well, let's start - let it begin now, today and for evermore, into eternity where there are no limitations.

Don't limit yourself in the 'here and now'. It's a fatal mistake that many make. If I direct you to do something or to be somebody, I will resource you - it's my pleasure to do that. It's not a burden to me or an impossibility for me. I'm only limited by your commitment to rely (trust) on me. Trust is critical (essential) for you as I have been training you and showing you. Trust - that's T-R-U-S-T. All capital letters because trust is a big factor in your success - for everyone's success in Kingdom life. The enemy likes to eliminate trust because he knows that weakens a person's zeal and once zeal goes, it's all hard work to keep going. So don't lose your trust in me - don't let it diminish. In fact you'll need to continue to increase it to new levels. Trust is the ultimate goal for your survival so you can be victorious in the work ahead of you.

This is it. Prepare yourself. Your time is at hand. Go for it, my son. I bless you and the work of your hands to prosper. Receive my favour and blessing and be my 'lethal weapon'. Go, go, go.

Love you. Father.
