

'Toe The Line' & Relax

Are you really ready? Really? You say you are, but there are aspects of your life that have to change first.

Your tenacity is lacking in some areas. Yes, lacking. You have not adhered to my advice to you, so things have 'dragged on' - dragged on longer than I had anticipated (expected).

Please toe-the-line. Please come alongside of me and let me draw you forward with me. We are partners and partners move together.

The conference you've been asked to run, it's OK with me to do so. You will be prepared for it, so make the arrangements to have it commence. I will use it for my glory, not yours, as you understand. I am raising you up and this will be part of that. Keep watch over yourself as pride will try to find a foothold at that time. There isn't a lot of time to get this prepared, so start now. Start while you have time, as things will get very busy again next year.

I have great plans for you. Yield to me more. Yield to me more quickly. Control your flesh and bring it in line with your spirit.

I love you my son. This is great - us being together, travelling together as one. I like it this way. I am content with your progress. Stick with it so you don't come unstuck. Stick to me like glue - flexible glue, as you need to be more flexible where I'm taking you. Don't be too stiff-necked so I can't mold you (change you).

We need to spend more time together - you and me. I will arrange it so the pressure is not on you. Just relax and let it happen. You'll see, it will work out well - my way.

This is it! This is the time you've been waiting for. Gird yourself - an old fashioned expression, I know, but it says it all. You will march triumphantly into your future with me. It will be an ease of progress, as I will do it all for you. Just trust and stop trying to work things out in your head.

YIELD! Yield to me completely, with all your heart. Don't follow your own understanding, because you know my ways aren't yours - they're higher than yours, better than yours...

There is much to do - much work and we need to do it together. You and me. We are a team together and I like it that way.

Laurence
