

Teach Others All I Show You

Teach others all that I show you, as you have been doing. Don't keep it to yourself as I trained you as a teacher with the gift of inculcating your thoughts into others. It's a critical time, these next few years, to get into others what I'm showing you. It will increase as there's much to know - as you keep saying. Listen to me. Digest it and pass it on.

You're doing a good job at it so far. Don't let the 'deaf' ears and hardheartedness of your hearers deter you. They did the same to me and it will be so until I return! The enemy has blocked their ears and there's a veil before their eyes. They are drifting in life like boats on the sea without wind or power.

It's tough, I know, giving you this task of building and overseeing a community for me, but the rewards for my Kingdom will be greater than you will know in this life. Push ahead with it - SLOWLY - and let it develop under the guidance of my Spirit. I am the Head - you are part of my team. Remember that. Don't let that 'deflate' you as humility and submission to Holy Spirit is the key to advancement and personal development.

This community will become a model for others here in Australia, so listen to me as I show you how to structure it and develop it. Don't move ahead into a commune too quickly as it will implode. WAIT! Wait for the right people and the right connections. [Wait for] when I show you these people and the networks that you are to work with. Step cautiously, but boldly into each phase. Start simply with Sunday meetings with your friends and family as I've shown you. Keep it simple. Train them to follow my Spirit and to focus on me. There's much religion that needs to be reefed out of their behaviour and their thought processes.

You're doing well. Be encouraged my son.

I love you to bits.

Dad
