

Independence is an Impediment

Thank you for getting this point. Independence has curtailed much of what I want to do with you, and through you. You couldn't see it as an impediment so I had to bring it to you forcefully. NOW we can move on.

You are now in the right frame of mind to hear from me and align yourself with me. Move in relationship; move in 'family'; move in connectedness and then you'll see things happening. I will move and will bless what you are doing. Yes, blessings will flow like a river - you will be refreshed and so will others.

Ask for more from me in this area so I can give it to you. You need more. This is just the start - the seed that needs to grow and encompass others. Engage with others; envelope others - give yourself to them, not as a leader (a 'front-man'), but as a partner, as one of the team.

Yes, teamwork is what it's all about. Transfer OUR teamwork to what you are doing and you'll see big changes - both in yourself and in others.

Your group will grow, as others need 'family'. I placed within everyone a need for connectedness; of belonging; of being needed; and also of supporting others. Your group will develop this way and you'll see great progress. The key is to give yourself/yourselves of each other - just as you've given yourself to me as a bondservant and as a friend.

Put aside all that separates you from others and move ahead in freedom, devoid of your own 'baggage'. Yes, its your 'baggage', as you can see, which separates you from others. They have their 'baggage' too, but it's yours that limits you, that holds you back from intimacy/openness with others.

You are afraid to step out and be vulnerable because of a fear of being hurt. You were hurt before and you are defending yourself now. This defence is NO GOOD - it will not serve a Kingdom purpose. Actually, it works against my Kingdom. This is why you have a 'foot in the door' and can't proceed. This is what is holding you back. Free yourself and learn (by faith) to give yourself to others again.

Your past has a hold on you. Free yourself from it and jump into friendship and relationship. Give yourself to others unreservedly and see where it takes you. Trust me to 'have your back'. You're not alone this time as you have me - your master - overseeing your operation as I send you on your assignments.

Don't fear the obvious - fear me. Use that as your fear outlet. This is righteous fear that doesn't allow fear itself to control you. You now know the difference between righteous fear and unrighteous fear. In faith you've stepped out and joined yourself with me and experienced my love in community with me. Copy that and I will be with you as you work with others.

See those who come [to the group] as your equals - before my sight they are all equal. There is no rating system that I use with gradients of affection based on who you are or what you've achieved. This is a human mode of operation - of classifying and giving love in proportion to a person's standing. I DON'T DO THIS. I give myself and my love to you all in the same measure. I see you all as equals, like identical dolls on a [shop] shelf. I know you all intimately, as I created you. But the sin and blemishes in your life are not noticed by me in my attitude towards you as to who you are to me. You look at sin and mistakes and the like, but I DON'T. True, I look at the heart to see who you really are, but my relationship with you, my attitude towards you is independent of that.

You are all my 'gems' and my desire is for the best for you. I love you all with the same love - you know that. So why is it so hard to comprehend that I ignore sin and mistakes when I relate to you all? PLEASE, get to understand my mode of relationship - it will free you up to work with others. Quite frankly, it will be liberating for you. Yes, sin does impair our relationship, because I am holy. But, sin doesn't come into my attitude to you as a person. You are all mine - my precious ones - the love of my life.

I have no favourites. I relate to some more than others because they have a better connection with me. It's all orchestrated by them - it's from their side that our relationship has levels of quality. From my side, I don't give in levels, I give all. This causes me to see beyond the mess people's lives may be in and love them immensely. I desire all to be saved and I desire all to relate to me at the same level - at a 'complete' level. I know this doesn't and won't happen, but I don't change. My strong love for you all allows me to look beyond the mess, the 'baggage', the sin, etc., and want you all at the same level of desire. Can't you see this? Yes, I believe you now can. So, step out in this new knowledge and don't fear relationship. Don't fear being used or 'taken for a ride'. Allow me to give you discernment and to watch your back - and your front. <continued in part b>
