

The Story of the Samson and The Dream Giver.

by Peter Dunnet

Everybody has a dream for their life. You may not have discovered it yet, but it is there in the corner of your heart waiting to be discovered. It was placed there before you were born by..... The Dream Giver'.

Part 2. Samson the Sea Lion

The Dreamtime...Ages past...and the Future?

Samson was now a young adult sea lion. Recently he had become very confused. He had had a dream. In the dream he met the Dream Giver who took him back in time way, before his dad Ordie and his grandad 'White Beard'. Mind you his dad and grandad had helped him while growing up to understand his destiny and who he was to become. In the dream, the Dream Giver took him back in time to the year 1320 in the very northern parts of Scotland. He was on the Orkney Isles. There the Dream Giver showed him his great, great, great, great grandfather who was known as the 'Sea-Lander' It was said by some that the Sea-Lander was an immortal sea lion for he had been sighted down throughout the ages, always at times when evil raised its ugly head throughout the lands. He had in those days of the great sea lion, Robert The Bruce, led a gallant army of sea lions to free the Isles and seas surrounding Scotland of the dreaded 'Black Sea Eel' who had caused so much damage to the sea life in the region.

The Dream Giver also showed him in another vision, that in the near future a great darkness would cover the seas and the lands. It was terrible to witness all the suffering that was to take place. It made him feel very depressed. However, the Dream Giver said to him, 'I will be with you as I have been with your forefathers, and I will go ahead of you and prepare all that you will need in order to defeat 'The Spirit of the Shield of Darkness.' All of this is to happen in your lifetime...and, it has already begun. Samson woke up. The year was 2042.

The Ancient Seaweed Parchments.

His dad had kept all the ancient scrolls and dairies passed down to him by 'Whitebeard'. These went back many centuries. Samson spent a lot of his time over the next year or so studying the documents to gain insight. He did have some trouble interpreting the tricky Scottish dialect. 'Ooch-man' and 'Sea-lassie' were pretty easy but other words needed some research. There was in the documents much to take heed of, if he was to avoid errors of judgement. He noted what had gone terribly wrong in the battle of Raith in 596 where the Angles defeated the Scottish alliance.

The Great Sea-Ception.

Many colonies had recently come under the influence of radical factions who promoted the doctrine of 'Sea-Change.' They said things like 'The sea is going to dry up.' and 'the sea water temperature is going to reach boiling point!' All of this propaganda was being spread often by good people, well sought of, who believed the lies of the radical Left. Any sea lion in his right mind only had to refer to extensive scientific records over the last two hundred years or so to see that the sea level was as it had always been and the overall sea temperature had not changed either. After all, why would the Dream Giver let anything like this happen? It was just 'Woke' as they said on Sea-Sky News.

The Sea-Swell Propaganda.

Most of the propaganda, subtly fed misguided information was primarily shown on Sea-TV, particularly programmes on the national 'Sea ABC channel.' One of the worst programmes containing many of the lies was on 'Surfs-Down-Siders.' On this programme they showed 'trumped-up' papers by 'known' scientists over the last seventy years predicting world disasters. Currently not one of these (70 or so) predictions had come to pass. However, on the 'Sea-Sky News channel, the programme 'Surfs-UP-Siders' showed a totally different viewpoint giving unbiased scientifically documented (correct) facts with regard to climate, sea change and of course in keeping with what the Dream Giver said!! What was most disturbing and also amazing was the number of 'critters' that believed what came out on 'Sea' ABC as fact! It was simply Unbelievable!

The Next Chapter begins.

One evening Samson heard the Dream Giver say "Meet me 'out the back' ...early!". Samson knew what this meant...it meant, 'out where the big waves are'. It was not where they usually surfed. So before sun-up he left his mum and dad sleeping and headed out. It was a long swim but the water was invigorating and the sight of the sun brimming the eastern horizon was very special. He floated around for a while doing a bit of backstroke and then noticed the swell had increased. It was strangely coming from the shoreline instead of the ocean and.. building big-like. He then saw a wave way off of tsunami proportions. The Dream Giver said 'Get on it'. The strength of the wave was enormous. He didn't need to swim, it just carried him along. He found the speed of the wave and its gigantic size exhilarating. The Dream Giver said "just relax Samson and enjoy the ride". When Samson did this, he experienced a sensation of extreme joy. It was then, to his amazement, he noticed that the wave was rising above the earth and into the sky. They went so high that the whole of Australia was visible to him. "What do you see?" the Dream Giver said. Samson answered "I see many areas where sea lion colonies live and they are being oppressed by the evil one." "You are correct" the Dream Giver replied..."But with my help we are going to fix it!" Immediately following this Samson found himself back on the beach. No time had passed and he was ready to have breakfast with his dad Ordinary and his mum Essie. They had not noticed his absence.
