

Don't Give Religion A Foothold

Good morning Laurence. It's been a while since we've done this. I've been waiting for you, but you haven't shown up. Remember? This is an important time that we spend together. This is where I pass on to you vital information about our relationship and the things I have for you to do.

I'm pleased you've taken my advice and started the Apostolic course. This is essential - for you and for others. Yes, it was more work for you, but it is in line with my plans and it is good that you see it from that perspective. There is more work to prepare, but the rewards and outcomes from it will be great. Thanks for your obedience there, without questioning. Those who come will benefit from the course, as will you. It will actively set things in motion that you haven't dreamt of or even expected. Spin-offs for the Kingdom are like that - very unanticipated.

Smile. You are doing well. You are growing and developing. You are submitting and being humble. I like that in you. You have learnt well. See to it that you change in other areas of concern as your growth and development depends on the process of moulding and refining. We are moving together, even though you can't see it materializing.

Keep away from religious activity and don't give it a foothold.

You are nearing the end of one phase (period) of your training, so don't be despondent at the wilderness you are in. You do see the good that is happening around you and that this comes through you. But, the dryness will continue as part of your refining process.

Keep bringing around you those of the Kingdom. Strengthen them and draw strength from their fellowship also. Keep an eye out for those I bring into your sphere of influence as each has a specific item to impart to you or to see it impact you, and you will do the same to them - it's like cross-pollination.

Befriend your neighbours and bring them into your activities so they come into my Kingdom. Yes, that is one of your tasks that you are baulking at.

You are right to want to wait on me for your actions. Don't submit to your mind or to accusations as they do not lead to righteousness, nor do they bring pleasure to me. It was good to see you deal with that yesterday [in praying for the sick man next door].

I'm continuing to bring resources your way for your training and teaching. Enjoy them. Learn from them. Impart what you receive from them. You are good at that - I'm pleased.

Thank you for your change in attitude towards [your wife] and your family. It was good to see and it will bear fruit in due time.

This is a great day! I keep saying that because I want you to realize that, deep down inside you. This will destroy the works of depression in you because it takes your 'eyes' off you and puts them on what I'm doing and onto me. Yes, keep your eyes on me. Keep sticking with me. Draw your strength from me and be content.

'Bye for now. Join me soon as we prepare for Peter Kumar's visit which will have unexpected outcomes - you'll see.

Bless you my son.

Dad.

(Words in brackets are what I understood in my spirit immediately I was given something to write)

Laurence
14-8-2014
(www.CanberraForerunners.org)

COPYRIGHT
This document is free to copy, republish and distribute, but only 'as is'. It is free to quote from at length.
All Canberra Forerunners' documents are licensed under Creative Commons Attribution-NonCommercial-NoDerivs 3.0 Unported License