

More On What's Beyond Sonship

I have written on our roles as priests and kings¹ which is clear from the NT. However, those who inhabit Heaven and are schooled by our King operate in other roles as well.

We're only 'scratching the surface' in our sonship, there's much, much more for us to do, now and in the "Age to come". For example, many sons are currently operating in the courts of Heaven² and some are invited to attend Divine Council³. This is news to many who Earth-focused, but it's a reality for those who desire to become more mature.

Here's a sample of our other roles.

Legislator

To the list of our functions, Ian Clayton⁴ adds legislator & oracle.⁵ The reason he does that is because he has been trained by our King to operate in these, just like Jesus of Nazareth did.

A legislator legislates. They are a person who gives or makes laws, or they are a member of a legislative body.⁶ Read the chapter on legislator function in Ian's book "The Order of Melchizedek".⁷

Oracle

An oracle is one who speaks for God.⁸ For us, it's speaking what Father has given us to speak⁹ on important matters,¹⁰ not just prophetic words. That's what Jesus did.¹¹ He only spoke what Father gave him to speak, when he was speaking to impact others.¹²

From our intimacy with Father, he'll teach us the oracles of his heart which we will then speak on Earth when he tells us. We will speak in Father's authority, but that authority will only come when we've been proven to be a son he can trust.¹³

Governor

Justin Abraham¹⁴ adds governor, chancellor and judge to the list of our functions.¹⁵

Our role as kings includes the task of governing our domain for the King. The other government task involves what he wants to achieve on the earth through his Embassies of Heaven. These are groups of sons who will have the task of seeing the government of Heaven released in their locality. Like this:

"We will outwork that heavenly government through our own lives: firstly as individuals but also then corporately, with others who are called to a particular place, territory, region, people group or other sphere of influence. So those who share a particular mandate, blueprint, calling or destiny will begin to build relationally together, seeking to establish things 'on earth as it is in heaven' together and to represent heaven on earth together.”¹⁶

Governing is the function of the ekklesia.¹⁷ Ekklesia is the Greek term used to translate what Jesus said he would build his worldwide followers into.¹⁸ Here’s what Father taught Mike Parsons about governing:

“Government in God’s kingdom is concerned with establishing everything in heaven first, in alignment with God’s desire, so that all things in the created order can be restored to God’s original intention and purpose and heaven be manifested on earth.

God includes us in His government. He wants us to get involved because He has given us authority for this creation. He is waiting for us to come into maturity to be able to fully operate that authority in creation to restore it. So we get to be involved both in heaven and on earth.”¹⁹

Judge

The only thing we know is that we will judge angels.²⁰

Where Are We Right Now

The graphic below shows the situation many are in at present. They’re suddenly waking up to the fact that religion has short-changed them and that there’s a fantastic, fulfilling life available to them:

To visualize the process of maturity, it's graduating in Kingdom function like this:

son → priest → king → legislator → oracle

These stages usually exist side-by-side, developing at the same time. But it's easy to see them the way the flowchart displays it.
