

New Ekklesia Prophetic Journal

The New Ekklesia is not something that's just new at the moment, it's been around for quite some time. It's not the normal way of looking at things (community), because it's origin is with us, not mankind. That's been the trouble (problem) for so long. What we implemented has been hi-jacked by people, all in good faith, but with erroneous ideas. That's the main problem, ideas. What's needed is our blueprint, not any ideas from the minds of men and women.

We never intended for our implementation to be taken over by the ideas that people had come up with in order to please us. Yes, to please us – that was their aim. They thought, “What would God like us to do, seeing we serve him?” Big mistake. What should have been said was, “Let's find out from God what he wants us to do, now that he's made a way for us to be saved”. See the difference?

It is right (correct) that you to ask me what I want you to do. Thankyou. It pleases me that you've taken that attitude. True, you could go with what I've told others, but it's what I communicate to you that's vital. Vital, actually, because you have the responsibility to do things differently where you are and because of who you are. Everyone is different, so our blueprint will be the same, but fine-tuning will need to be done wherever it's implemented.

Take care. Don't rush into this. You did that with Community (KLC), thinking you knew what was required, but it wasn't so. Do a better job this time, as a lot depends on you adhering (sticking) to what we release to you. This is a great move for you, even though it seems like a backward step at the moment.

Listen, cut out all the 'bull' and focus on what you are given. What you add will not improve our plan, only weaken it and lead to collapse.

Bring those around you who have the same blueprint for this (task). You already know that (to be the case). I will reveal who these are, so don't try to find them. Relax and let me do the work in getting things up and running.

It's your neighbourhood that's to be your focus from now on. Still keep mentoring and teaching those who ask for it and who seek you out. However, these aren't your 'bread & butter'. Look to the locals. Mentor them. Support them and draw them in. Love them. Sup (dine) with them. Get involved in their lives and I'll do the rest.

Don't try to make anything happen, just make yourself available and don't baulk at what I get you to do. You still have a lot to learn and a great deal more to mature in. You need to step out into the area of miracles, because the Kingdom is not all about teaching for the sake of 'head knowledge'. People's lives need to be touched by me, and I'll do that through you and those I bring around you.

Stay close. Stay focused and stay alert.

More on this another day.

Laurence
