

Our Greatest Success is a Life Lived in Full Surrender

Each of us have our own idea of what success is, and what our greatest success looks like. Unfortunately, these are worldly or religious ideals, not Kingdom ones. They may be motivational and beneficial in the world and religious systems, but as sons, our first priority is what the King has to say about anything. So what's his mind on success? We need to know that.

Success means that you've succeeded. In the Kingdom, our aim is to succeed in what's important for the Kingdom and for Father's plans. One success is maturity of our sonship so we can operate like Jesus did and be fully effective for the Kingdom. But, is that our greatest success?

Considering that our Creator made us for relationship, that must factor in their idea of what success should be for sons. We know that Kingdom life and functionality flows out of our intimate relationship with the Trinity, so is that our gauge of success?

According to our King, it's full surrender to him. Why? Because when we're successful at that, the Kingdom (Heaven) fully backs us and success in everything else is achievable without toiling for it.

“Your greatest success is a life lived in full surrender to me. This is the place of not only peace and joy, but wisdom, courage, and success—of heavenly encounters and the miraculous. The greatest calling anyone could ever hope to have is to know me so intimately that their every moment is centered in me. I must always be your main love and first priority. Nothing will ever be more important, for out of your relationship with me life and blessings flow.”<sup>1</sup>

Society and professional Christians have taught us their version of success, such as, “breaking the glass ceiling” or “winning one soul every day for Jesus”. However, it's about time we aligned with the Kingdom on this matter, just like everything else needs to be.

So, surrender completely and let the benefits flow to your life.

Laurence
