

The only way a person can understand the joy of being home with Father is if they get the revelation that Father's character is love, through and through. And, that he only operates in love, nothing else. That same love character goes for all three members of the Trinity. There's no 'good' ones and 'bad' ones like Mariology<sup>1</sup> teaches.

This revelation has to be all-consuming so that all other concepts of the Trinity's non-loving character are dispelled and eliminated from the mind. Unfortunately, this is a difficult thing to achieve because of church theology and constant referencing to the OT. The 'angry god' concept is all-pervading in the church system, so there's no getting away from it. I had to be delivered from it because that was the concept I had for the first 50 years of my life.

It was Jack Frost's teaching on the Father's heart which finally open my eyes to a loving Father who I then embraced with all my being.<sup>2</sup> 'The Shack' added onto what I'd learnt and I began to feel Father's love as I engaged with him. However, it wasn't until I moved further on and deprogrammed myself from all religion and legalism that I was in the right frame of mind to receive "God is love" as the total summation of his character. Following that, I got a grasp on the idea that The Law (Torah) was not Father's intention for his Abrahamic people.<sup>3</sup> It was what they wanted because it was their concept from being in contact with the gods of Egypt. Only then was I able to see that Father wasn't double-minded in bringing down the Law, and that the Law wasn't meant to roll over into the New Covenant and be the basis for the Age of Grace.

The prophetic messages I received confirmed his powerful love, and I started enjoying it. Revelling in Father's love each day and enjoying his company and oversight of my life let me open my heart to accept other people's thoughts on his extravagant love. Rob Bell's book "Love Wins"<sup>4</sup> arrested me and as I meditated on it over the months, I was brought to a place of being willing to accept love as the only way Father operates. Now, I won't accept anything about him that's not an outworking of his love. As he told Mike Parsons<sup>5</sup>:

"Son, you can trust in my love being constant and consistent, and reject any theology, doctrine or teaching that contradicts my nature and essence as love"<sup>6</sup>.

Here's an example of the overflowing love of our King in an instruction to us to meld with him:

"Enter into my cloud-filled chamber, and I will give you the wine of my love, the joy of my heart, the peace of my kingdom, and the power of my Spirit. You will become the echo of my heartbeat, my masterpiece of sacred devotion. Come and sit with me on my mercy seat where my love is enthroned. Through our sacred union you will become a dispenser of mercy to those who mistreat or misunderstand you. You will become like me when you quiet yourself in the chamber of my presence."<sup>7</sup>

I reiterate, the love of Father and Jesus for us must become all-consuming in our experience and understanding. Without it becoming a revelation and a wonderful experience we'll continue to attribute to them the wrong characteristics and we'll remain 'poisoned' by religious misinformation and doctrine.

In that case, we'll never be HOME in our heart, mind and experience.
