

Kings Take Territory

The fact that kings take territory is not a very PC¹ thing to say, but that's how it's been since the beginning of king's existence. It's been the habit of kings in the past to become emperors by taking land from other ethnic groups. That's been an outworking of their regal training, but mostly from their desire for more power and control. The latter is a function of their base nature, so it's built into them, as it is in every person. That type of conquest is unrighteous, because it doesn't have the approval of Heaven.

Other kings have followed the plans of Heaven and taken territory because 'God'² told them to. For example: David was given an expanse to conquer by Yahweh, in 'the same vein' as Joshua was. He undertook the task under Yahweh's guidance, but it was his son, Solomon, who finally completed it. This type of conquest is righteous, provided it's undertaken righteously.

King's also take back territory that's been taken from their people. This is to retake what is considered to be rightfully theirs to rule over. This can be a righteous or unrighteous activity.

King Jesus is taking back territory that was his. This is very righteous. The territory of the natural realm was stolen by stealth by the Nachash⁴ and became the domain of Satan, our adversary. Adam was the installed king of the natural realm which was to be ruled over by himself, his progeny and those who came from his bloodline. Adam gave away his rulership (kingship) when he heeded the advice of the Nachash. This was the rulership of the Earth, but also included the whole universe from what we've been shown. This is the territory King Jesus is warring to get back for all of humanity. He's not just bringing us back into Father's family, he's taking back everything that was given to us. We must see that.

We are warrior king's, like our King, not just soldiers in his army. We are kings who are fighting in rank, alongside him. We are involved in taking back what's ours – that's everything the enemy has stolen – both personal and for the whole of humanity.

2 – 'God': I use this term in inverted commas because 'God' is the generic term people use, while I don't any more. I have an intimate relationship with the members of the Trinity, so I refer to them by name out of relationship.

That means we aren't insurgents, we're invading kings. As a new species of hybrid humans,⁵ we're invading and taking over from the standard humans who occupy the cities and nations of the world. This is not a physical conquest, but one that's to be achieved spiritually and by the metamorphosis of all standard humans who will join the conquest.

This is another reason why we can't remain as Christians. Christians don't have the ability to operate as warrior kings. A pusillanimous mentality shuts them out from being one.

Let's get cracking! We need to be trained to be kings and how to war appropriately so we can be effective in taking back our territory the King's way.
