

How Will the King Return?

There's been countless teachings and preachings on Jesus' return over the years, but no one really knows what it will actually be like. The only ones who know are the Trinity, so that's where we need to go to find out.

Mike Parsons has been reprogrammed by Father to alignment with Heaven, so we can expect a good understanding from him. He has a Full Preterist view of the Bible and of History since the birth of Jesus of Nazareth. Here's the right background from him to understand the answer that father will give us:

"In a sense you've got to go back to what Jesus said. Jesus never said that he was going to come thousands of years later. He never said that he was going to come on to Earth and rule. He said the opposite in fact. So, if you go back to what Jesus said, all the signs that he said of his coming would be in the generation that heard him speak. And that's why Jesus clearly said [that] some would still be alive when he returned, that they wouldn't have even gone through all of the preaching into Judea and Samaria before he returned. He told some of the priests that they would see him return. All of those in Matthew 24 he said that that would be in that generation. All these things will take place in that generation, including the gospel being preached to the whole world. People say, "Oh no. The gospel has not been preached to the whole world." But according to the Bible, the gospel was preached to the whole world in that generation, for what 'the world' meant, because you've got to take it into context. What did Jesus mean when he said that, in Matthew 24, the same that was said even on the day of Pentecost, that there were those of all nations under Heaven listening when the Holy Spirit came. You have various scriptures in Romans and in Colossians which actually also talk about that. The gospel had gone into the whole world. Jesus clearly put it into the framework of 'this was the end of the old age' – not the end of the world, but the age – because various words have been mistranslated. Anios is one of them, which does mean a period of defined time or an age or a duration of an age. It doesn't mean 'world'. So it's the end of the age. That was the end of the Old Covenant age, the beginning of the New Covenant, as in, Jesus came to bring that age to final fulfilment. That's really what it is all about. Everything that you then read that Paul wrote, and others wrote, are in reference to what Jesus wrote. So, if you compare 1 Thessalonians, in terms of Jesus, Paul talking about [some] sort of 'the rapture', he wasn't talking about the rapture, he was talking about the same end of the age. If you compare Matthew 24 and you compare 1 Thessalonians 4 & 5, you will see that they are all comparable. If you look in those comparisons, you actually will see that all of them are there. This is part of the problem. People only believe what they've been told or conditioned to believe, rather than actually what Jesus said. So, if you look at Matthew 24, Jesus returns from Heaven (Matthew 24:30; 1 Thessalonians 4:16), with the voice of an archangel (Matthew 24:31), with the trumpet of God (Matthew 4:31; 24:31), comes as a thief (Matthew 24:43; 1 Thessalonians 5:2). The time is unknown, both of them say that. Both of them say that these are birth pangs, that they're going to meet the lord in the clouds first (Matthew 24:30; 25:6). All of those things are there. In the same thing that Jesus said was going to happen in that generation. People who are dispensational or pre-millennial have said is going to happen at the end of the age, and you'll never find anywhere in the Bible that says there's going to be a two-stage return of Jesus. He just came and when he came, it was the end of the old age and fully establishing the new."<sup>1</sup>

Here's what it will be like and how it will occur, according to what Jesus told Kriston Couchey:

"He said... "The number of overcoming witnesses is reaching completion. Just as at Pentecost persevered until my coming, so I have kept a remnant that have persevered and overcome to bear witness to my coming Glory. I have been gathering unto Myself the first fruits of those who shall bear witness that the King has come and the Day of the Lord is here." ...

Then, from within me, Jesus began to speak again, "The top of this Mountain is where heaven has already come to earth, where my 'will is done on earth as it is in heaven'; it is the merging place of these two realms."

"Those who have overcome and now abide on this mountain ARE in heaven and on the earth at the same time; and are now 'one' with heaven and with each other, even as I am one with my Father. But their 'oneness' is founded upon a greater truth; they have become one with me and my Father. It is through this 'oneness' with my Father and Myself that the people below will know that I have been sent of my Father and that you are my disciples."

Then Father Himself began to speak within me, "The day of my Son's coming is here, but it is beyond men's scope, understanding or ability to grasp how He is coming to mankind. The Holy City descending out of heaven comes as ONE with the Son and heaven, He is coming in and among the Holy City, the Bride, my sons, my witnesses."

"As they descend to the valley below, my Bride will bear witness with the Presence of my Glory in and upon them; first to those who are on the Mountain, and then to all upon the earth. All that is wood, hay and stubble will be burned up as Babylon falls in the face of my Glory. Even those who have seen by revelation what is about to transpire cannot fathom what is happening. It is beyond the ability of men to comprehend."

"As my sons go forth, this Mountain will cover all the earth, for it is my kingdom, and 'all the earth shall be covered with my Glory as the waters cover the sea'. The earth itself will be renewed as heaven and earth merges and becomes ONE because of my coming in and among my sons, and all that is not of me will be removed."<sup>2</sup>

Rick Joyner was told in a visitation to Heaven that Jesus will return in his people. Here's what he received:

"I am coming to earth in My people as Wisdom to build My city [the New Jerusalem]<sup>3</sup>. The knowledge of truth will fill My city, but wisdom will build it. The wisdom that is coming upon My builders will cause the world to marvel at My city even more than they did before the city that Solomon built. Men have worshiped their own wisdom since they first ate of the Tree of Knowledge. The world's wisdom is about to pale before My wisdom, which I will reveal through My city. Then those who worship any other wisdom will be ashamed. All that Solomon did was a prophecy of what I am about to build.

"In all you have seen of the city I am building, I have only given you a superficial glimpse."<sup>4</sup>

That's different to what we've been taught, but it aligns with what we're being trained for at the present time. We can see the importance of their focus on The Restoration of All Things, as it's dovetailing with how the King will return.

Continuing on with more of what Rick was told:

"The one thing that stood out the most to me was the harmony. Everything in the city fit so perfectly together, and the whole city fit so perfectly in its environment", I responded.

"The perfect bond of peace is love", the Lord continued. "In My city, there will be unity. In all that I created, there was harmony. All things fit together in Me. Everything I am doing in the earth is to restore the original harmony between My Father and His creation and between all creatures. When man lives in harmony with Me, the earth will be in harmony with him, and there will be no more earthquakes, floods, or storms. I came to bring peace on earth."

As He spoke I knew I was looking into the future, just as I had been when I viewed the army. I also knew that what He had said about building with peace in the present and a vision for the future was also essential for the harmony I saw. Time is also a part of His creation that we have to fit in with.

Wisdom then turned to me so that I looked directly into His eyes and said, "I love My creation. I love the beasts and the fish of the sea. I will restore all things as they were intended to be, but I must first restore man. I did not come just to redeem, but to restore. To be a part of My ministry of restoration you must not just see men as they are, but as they are to become. Like Ezekiel, you must see in even the driest bones an exceedingly great army. You must prophesy life to the bones until they become the army that I have called them to be. Then My army will march. When My army marches it will restore, not destroy. It will fight evil, but it will also build the city of righteousness." <sup>5</sup>
