

PROPHETIC JOURNAL ENTRY: Be a 'Glass Half Full'

I've been looking forward to this time. I've been waiting for you to connect so that I can pass things to you that are on my heart.

I've been watching you, and found you wanting in a few areas. These are areas that you need to work on so you can move forward. They are not disastrous areas, they are small points that I want you to consider and to put changes into effect.

(Personal component removed from here)

They're just a few things. Work on those because they are beneficial to you if they are dealt with properly.

Thank you for listening. Thank you for loving [me]. Thank you for submitting yourself to me.

I know you don't do things perfectly, but your heart is right, and I'm pleased with that.

Listen to me more often, as you're tending to do things out of your own ability and your own prowess. I know sons have that prerogative, but you need to spend much more reliance on me, because you're not at a stage of maturity that I can release you into that, to be able to do everything as a son, your way.

'Chin up'. Keep working on your plans to be a person who is 'glass half-full' rather than 'glass half empty'. Keep working on dealing with negativity so that you can eliminate it.

Keep listening as I train you and teach you, because there's so much more that you need to know.

Bide your time. Do what you have to do and wait for me to release you to where I have to release you because the time is right. Don't 'jump the gun'. 'Stay the course'. Keep focused and all will turn out well.

(Words in square brackets are to convey the sense of the sentence as I received it)
