

A Different Take on the Return of the King

Christians have been waiting for 2,000 years for Jesus to return. What if they are expecting the wrong 'return' because of their eschatology, especially their Futurist eschatology?

Ron McGatlin thinks they've been wrong. He states:

“Spiritual mysteries are hidden by God to be revealed only to prepared people at the place and time of prepared conditions and circumstances.

The revealing of the mystery of the "coming of the King" is the key to His coming...

For over 2000 years God has been working preparing a people to receive the unlimited attributes of God contained within the great mystery of the coming of the Lord and His Kingdom.

The mystery is like a many faceted puzzle with a massive multitude of complex features that can all be arranged into perfect alignment to form the whole and complete picture of all natural creation. Any piece or part out of order in any facet of the puzzle affects the whole to some degree...

This great mystery involves this word 'coming'. We know the COMING KING IS CHRIST JESUS THE LORD. But what does the word 'coming' really mean in this statement? Generally, we think of coming as a future tense verb. In the New Testament a number of verses use the statement of "coming of the Lord". The Greek word translated coming in many of these verses is 'parousia' which literally means 'presence' or 'manifest'...

Is it not possible that we the church have not grasped the full truth of the mystery of Christ in His Body and Bride on Earth? Is the Kingdom of God really within us as Jesus said it would be?

Is the mystery of the coming of the King truly the fullness of the reality of our seeing and believing and thereby releasing the presence or manifesting of Spirit King Jesus and Father God?

Is this not the manifesting 'coming' of the King? Is it not in His presence that all things are possible to us? Is it that our not believing this prevents the fullness of the King's coming or fully manifesting NOW in HIS PEOPLE on Earth? ...

I for one truly believe that we as the church have missed it and that God is now revealing the truth of the mystery that will change the entire world and bring forth the awesome power of the rule of LOVE, the Kingdom of God on Earth as it is in heaven.”¹

Ron's revelatory thoughts fit in with what Kriston Couchey was told by our King:

“The day of my Son's coming is here, but it is beyond men's scope, understanding or ability to grasp how He is coming to mankind. The Holy City descending out of heaven comes as ONE with the Son and heaven, He is coming in and among the Holy City, the Bride, my sons, my witnesses.”²

This is the same as our King told Rick Joyner:

“I am coming to Earth in My people as Wisdom to build My city [the New Jerusalem]³. The knowledge of truth will fill My city, but wisdom will build it.”⁴

It appears that Christian's have definitely been wrong about the King's return.

The Jews missed it in the 1st century when he returned as King and Judge and destroyed the temple and Jerusalem in 70 AD through the Roman army. They didn't listen to the warnings he gave them when he was Jesus of Nazareth, and they were consequently removed from the promised land for the 3rd and final time. He used the Assyrians and Babylonians in the previous two times; he didn't need to appear in visible form to judge then and execute his judgement.

His return as King at the end of this Age will likewise, according to him, be unexpected. He'll come in the presence of his people who house his presence. They will be ruling and reigning on Earth for him at that time, and will continue doing so.
