An Analysis of "The Curse of the New Israɛl: Why the Church Failed the Test of October 7th"

I was sent a link to the 2026 audio of The Inkwell's "The Curse of the New Israɛl: Why the Church Failed the Test of October 7th"[1] publication, an article[2] of the same title that was put up on the Internet by The Emmaus Table. Having listened to it, here are my thoughts.

As the title of her article intimates, Stephanie Quick berates the Christians of the world for not coming to the defence of Israel in the period subsequent to the atrocious attack they suffered. As if Israel is more important than any other nation that's attacked by Hαmαs jíhadis. Would she be so scathing of Christians not supporting fellow believers who are killed all around the world in the name of AIIah?

Her basis for arguing the failure of Christians to support Israɛl, and also that the event was a ' a rail switch of human history', is her belief in the literal reading of the Bible – both the OT and the NT. She sees that event as heralding the world "barrelling towards the Day of the LORD"[3], but like all those who subscribe to Futurist Eschatology, the paradigm is scripture-based, not based in spiritual reality.

The author is pro Israɛl and quite sincere in what she believes and has written. However, sincerity is not the hallmark of truth or accuracy – one only has to observe the hysterical protesters of Climate Change, anti-ICE, anti One Nation, and pro Palestine, in our streets these days. Actually, anyone can be sincerely wrong. That's the case for people today with social media misinformation, just like it was in history when news was mainly spread verbally, from person to person.

Here are my counter-points that I noted as I listened to her read her article on Youtube:

1. Jesus (The Son) came to restore humanity back to our Creation-status, the one we lost with The Fall. It was not to propagate a chain of events which followed (i.e. her 'train' analogy) Israɛl or to focus on that nation as the centre-piece of world history.
2. Our focus is to be on the Kingdom, not Israɛl or the Jeωs. That's the Trinity's focus, so it has to be ours.
3. The turning points (i.e. her "switches") in history were not all connected with Israɛl – that's biased thinking. There were many others, such as the Industrial Revolution, the end of slavery by Britain, the Landing of a man on the moon, to name a minuscule number of them.
4. Actually, the church has missed the point of proper focus for nearly 2000 years, not specifically the 3 years since October 7. Our proper focus is the priority of sonship and the Kingdom, right NOW, not some time in the 'sweet bye and bye'.
5. Information about our current times, as well as our future, should come from Spirit-to-spirit communication, not scripture, or any other religious source. Jesus never initiated the Bible ('sacred scripture') – he (as The Son) identified himself as the source of the truth that we need.
6. Ahead of us is the Manifestation of the Sons of God and the Restoration of All Things, not the ideas propagated by Futurist Eschatology.
7. We will face worldwide turmoil in the future, not because of Jacob's Trouble or the Seven-Year Tribulation. It will come because Father's sons are now beginning to properly focus and become Kingdom activated. The enemy is pushing back to counter the expanding spiritual influence of sons.
8. Her focus, as well as that of many people worldwide, is currently on the persecution of Jeωs. What about the worldwide persecution of believers[4] and Christians.

4 – 'believer': My expression for those who believe in what was accomplished by the man Jesus. It includes Christians, plus those who have a relationship with the Trinity outside of the structured church.

9. The OT has no relevance under the New Covenant (NC). The NC, as demonstrated by the life and activities of Jesus of Nazareth, is about operating as sons in Father's family as we go about his business. The OT, plus it's information on the religion of Judaism, is historical and of no significance for today, other than for knowledge of the emergence of the Messiah to effect the NC.
10. The Apostles were 'babes' in the Kingdom, even though we elevate them to a pinnacle status. They didn't have all the knowledge and spiritual experience that there is to know. Their elevation and esteem is a function of the Christian religion, not spiritual reality or Kingdom actuality.
11. The 1st century 'seed' believers were meant to pass their knowledge and experience on to the next generation so there'd be a burgeoning of knowledge and ability over ensuing generations. Eventually, all believers were to function like Jesus of Nazareth, our prototype[5]. This didn't happen, because paganism and Judaism infiltrated the believers' ekklesias and transformed the spiritual movement into a religion, beginning in the 1st century.
12. The apostles, because of their foundational life experience, were not totally free of their own Jeωish biases – as exemplified by their arguments and disagreements.
13. Quoting scripture is ignorant of the widespread poor translations of the Hebrew mind of the writers into Koine Greek, and then into modern English. It also ignores 1st century idioms which we're unaware of, but not the readers of letters in those days.
14. The SON is the root of the spiritual vine or olive tree, not Israɛl. He is the source of life that sustains us spiritually, not Israɛl's historic connection. Israɛl was grafted into (i.e. brought into life) by their connection to the SON (as WHWH). We have also been grafted into him.
15. Gradients of sin, plus, what 'God'[6] hates or detests[7] more than others, is an OT meme. It doesn't align with the character of the Trinity who operate in righteousness. Any unrighteousness that we engage in is out of alignment with their expectations and desire for us.
16. All hatred is unrighteous, not just antisemitism.
17. A false gospel is not one that "flies in the face of the biblical prophets, apostles, and Jesus himself"[8] (i.e. our modern understanding of his teaching in the NT). A false gospel is anything other than the gospel of the Kingdom (it's the real Full Gospel[9]).
18. "Ignorant of the mystery of Israɛl"[10] is misunderstood by the writer. (See my article on this question[11])

These points come from the knowledge that I've received from Father's communication to me,[12] as well as from his teaching of me. This source is how we're meant to learn as sons, and that includes learning from what he's taught others – once the information has been assessed, of course. From that perspective of spiritual learning, I'm reminded of Jesus' words to the religious leaders of his day, "You search the 6 – 'God': I use this term in inverted commas because 'God' is the generic term people use, while I don't any more. I have an intimate relationship with the members of the Trinity, so I refer to each of them by name, out of relationship. From my oneness with them, I collectively refer to them as The Trinity.

Scriptures, for in them you think you have eternal life; and these are they which testify of Me."[13] In other words, spiritual reality trumps[14] learning from a 'holy' book. The Trinity want us to learn from them. That's why Jesus described himself as "The Truth".
