- “Texas Wildfires Have Nothing to Do With Climate Change”
“Contrary to the prevailing narrative pushed by the media, climate change isn’t behind every natural disaster or extreme weather event... “Wildfires, especially in arid parts of the United States, have always been a natural part of the environment, and they likely always will,” we note in “Climate at a Glance: U.S. Wildfires”. And recent satellite data reveal that the amount of acreage lost to wildfires each year globally declined dramatically from 2012 to 2018, even as carbon dioxide emissions continued to increase.”

- “Scientists Expose Major Problems With Climate Change Data”
“The U.N. Intergovernmental Panel on Climate Change (IPCC) holds the same view [as the US government], and its leaders are pushing major global policy changes in response. But scientific experts from around the world in a variety of fields are pushing back. In peer-reviewed studies, they cite a wide range of flaws with the global temperature data used to reach the dire conclusions; they say it’s time to reexamine the whole narrative.”

- “Junk Science Being Used to Justify the Climate Change Narrative”

“We’ve all seen the headlines: a doomsday glacier is going to sink cities across the globe, illegal immigrants are fleeing to America because of climate change, and many more along these lines. But is any of it true? Well according to Steve Milloy, environmental attorney and the founder of JunkScience.com, the answer is no. Many lies or half-truths are being told to justify the climate change narrative. We speak to him about the climate change hoax that is happening, and also how the U.S. push for green technology plays right into the Chinese Communist Party’s hands.”

“scientific experts from around the world in a variety of fields are pushing back. In peer-reviewed studies, they cite a wide range of flaws with the global temperature data used to reach the dire conclusions; they say it’s time to reexamine the whole narrative. Problems with temperature data include a lack of geographically and historically representative data, contamination of the records by heat from urban areas, and corruption of the data introduced by a process known as “homogenization”.”

“Scientists fear excessive ocean heat – which is bleaching corals in parts of the Great Barrier Reef – is now hitting the world’s most southern coral reef at the world heritage-listed Lord Howe island. There are also concerns ocean temperatures are reaching dangerous levels for corals at Australia’s remote Norfolk Island, which is about 1400km east of Queensland’s Gold Coast.”
