- ★ “97 Percent of Scientists Don’t Agree on “Climate Crisis”: Manufacturing Consent”
“While the mainstream media around the world leads people to believe that a climate crisis will soon engulf the whole world (if it hasn’t already) — there are some people who’ve looked into the science and data, and... they’re not convinced. According to Mr. James Taylor (the president of The Heartland Institute) when you examine the facts, and data — it puts the media’s scares into proper perspective, and dispels much of the eco-anxiety that young people across the world experience.”

- “New Papers ‘Completely Undermine’ the So-Called Settled Science on Manmade Global Warming”
“The argument that climate change is “settled science” is no more. Scientists and researchers are now stepping forward to declare that the narrative is fake. Many are arguing that while the climate changes, there is no climate emergency. So what’s the case, and where is this debate heading? We speak with award-winning international journalist and Epoch Times contributor Alex Newman about this.”

- “Era of ‘Unquestioned and Unchallenged’ Climate Change Claims Is Over”
“Leading voices in the climate science community are in an uproar as their warming hypothesis is coming under fresh assault by new scientific papers. The authors of the papers are being attacked and say that “activist scientists” threatened by the new findings are “aggressively conducting an orchestrated disinformation campaign to discredit the papers and the scientific reputation of the authors.””

- “IPCC Global Warming Reports Underestimated Role of Sun in Warming: Study”
“Reports on global warming issued by the United Nations’ Intergovernmental Panel on Climate Change (IPCC) underestimate the role of the Sun in the warming process while falsely laying blame on human beings, according to a study published last month. In 2021, Ronan Connolly, a scientist at the Center for Environmental Research and Earth Science (CERES), and his colleagues published a review raising concerns about multiple reports issued by the IPCC. The IPCC reports concluded that global warming since the mid-20th century was essentially human-driven, dismissing natural causes behind the process.”

- “There Are 3 Categories of Climate Experts, ‘Genuine’ Ones Shrinking: Climate Scientist”
“Climate scientist Judith Curry warned that “genuine” climate experts are a shrinking group while alarmists are “exploding” and taking over the mainstream narrative on climate change issues. There are “three categories” of climate experts, Ms. Curry said in an Oct. 3 interview with media personality John Stossel. “One is people who are fluent in reciting IPCC talking points,” she said... Then the second class is people who actually have some understanding, who can read the full U.N. climate report, the full one, and actually understand it... And then there's the third class, people who are genuine experts, who can critically evaluate all that. And, unfortunately, that third category is shrinking proportionally because the rest of the climate field is exploding.”

- “Bill Gates Admits There's Lots of 'Climate Exaggeration'”

“Multi-billionaire Bill Gates appeared to reverse course on some of his previous climate change remarks and suggested that some activists have made alarmist predictions. “There’s a lot of climate exaggeration,” said Mr. Gates, who helped found Microsoft and is now a multi-billionaire philanthropist, in a recent event. “The climate is not the end of the planet. So the planet is going to be fine.” He made those remarks at the Earthshot Prize Innovation Summit alongside fellow billionaire Michael Bloomberg and Prince William of the United Kingdom. His comments about “exaggeration” did not include any specific examples.”

- “What Does Autism’s Biochemistry Reveal About Its Cause and Potential for Treatment?”

“Dr. Dayan Goodenowe has spent decades researching the biochemical mechanics of disease. He has invented and patented technology that identifies prodromes (early symptoms) for a range of conditions—including autism—to aid diagnosis and treatment. “Different diseases have these prodromes. They have these things that come before. The program for autism is mitochondrial insufficiency. And that's what leads to the gender bias, the three times more boys have autism versus girls.” ... “Most parents will say [their child was] developing normally, then something happened ... Maybe they got a bad infection; they got some sort of injury; some sort of inflammation event occurred in their life. And that starts a cascade of inflammation.” Dr. Goodenowe identifies three key disruptions to the machinery of the cell that result in autism.”
