- “10 Types of Misinformation in Peer-Reviewed COVID-19 Paper Decrying Misinformation”
“Recently, one of America’s leading medical journals, the Journal of the American Medical Association, published a peer-reviewed paper studying the propagation of “COVID-19 misinformation on social media by physicians in the US.” The article is riddled with major errors, labels true information as misinformation, and “exemplifies how relying on the government to decide what’s true versus false can be so problematic and can cost lives,” argues Dr. Tracy Beth Høeg, a physician epidemiologist. She works in private practice and also has a position at the department of biostatistics and epidemiology at the University of California–San Francisco. “It’s very disturbing that [this paper] passed through the peer review process and was published,” Dr. Høeg says.”

- “Because truth is important: 10 ways the JAMA Network Open article accusing physicians of spreading misinformation is wrong”
“I recently wrote a thread on X exposing just some of the numerous obvious flaws and untruths in the recent JAMA Network Open paper. I’ve received numerous requests to do interviews and write more on this topic. I was going to write a letter to the editor based on my post but apparently JAMA NO does not accept letters to the editor. So here I am writing on Substack, trying to get it all straight and prepare for an interview this week on the topic (I’m also secretly hoping you will let me know what I got wrong).”

- “CDC Quietly Removes COVID Vaccine Adverse Events Reporting From Website”
“The U.S. Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) has halted the collection of COVID-19 vaccine adverse events reports through the agency’s V-Safe page, even after millions of Americans have reported such events. When visiting the V-Safe page, a message shows: “Thank you for your participation. Data collection for COVID-19 vaccines concluded on June 30, 2023. If you have symptoms or health problems following your COVID-19 vaccination that concern you, please contact your healthcare provider. You can also report to the Vaccine Adverse Event Reporting System (VAERS).” ... The CDC says that it closed enrollment in V-safe on May 19, as the program was “developed specifically for COVID-19 vaccines.” According to the agency, it is “developing a new version of v-safe which will allow users to share their post-vaccination experiences with new vaccines.””

- “People Rarely Transmit COVID-19 Before Experiencing Symptoms: Lancet Study”
“In a blow to the COVID-19 “silent spreader” narrative that has been used to push for universal masking, including controversially among schoolchildren, a recent study published in The Lancet suggests that people who are non-symptomatic rarely have the ability to infect others. Silent transmission is the idea that those who are infected with COVID-19 but show no symptoms can still spread the virus to other people. While all relevant studies show that presymptomatic and asymptomatic “silent spreaders” account for some proportion of infections in other people, the degree of silent transmission is less clear.”

- “Biden Admin Admits Vaccine Error: No Evidence Behind Recommendations”
“After a 7 month long legal battle, the Biden administration conceded that there is no scientific evidence to support an apparent recommendation to receive as many as six COVID-19 booster shots per year.”

- “Researchers Create Aerosolized mRNA Covid Vaccine”
“Researchers at Yale University have created a new airborne method of delivery for mRNA vaccines. They claim that their tests were able to successfully vaccinate mice intranasally — without any injections. They believe that this will radicalize the way people are vaccinated in the near future. Let’s go through their research, as well as the the implications that it has for the next “vaccination drive” in this country.”

- “COVID Vaccine DNA Contamination, the Monkey Virus SV40 Promoter, and What’s Actually in the Vaccines”
“Kevin McKernan worked at the Human Genome Project at MIT as manager of research and development. Today, he is the chief scientific officer and founder of Medicinal Genomics, and is researching DNA contamination in the COVID-19 genetic vaccines. “There are limits on how much DNA can be in a vaccine precisely because of the concern over DNA integration,” says Mr. McKernan. “What we do know is in both shots, there is residual DNA, and this DNA is either right above the regulatory limit or tenfold higher.” How do the different mRNA vaccine components impact the body? What’s really going on with the SV40 monkey virus promoter that’s in them? Why should we be concerned about lipid nanoparticles and DNA open reading frames? And how is synthetic mRNA fundamentally different from naturally-occurring mRNA?”

- “COVID-19 Stay-at-Home Policies Resulted in Excess Deaths: Study”
“Public health officials’ efforts to protect citizens from COVID-19 infection and avert death may have backfired, a new study published in Health Economics suggests. What’s more, the efforts could be linked to excess deaths. Mandatory masking and social distancing became everyday directives for millions worldwide when the COVID-19 virus exploded onto the scene in 2020. Shelter-in-place (SIP) or stay-at-home orders quickly followed despite evidence supporting the protocol remaining mixed.”

- “Bivalent Booster Protection Against Hospitalization Drops to Near-Zero: CDC Data” “Protection against hospitalization from bivalent COVID-19 vaccines quickly dropped over time, according to U.S. Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) data presented on Sept. 12. For adults aged 18 to 64 with healthy immune systems, the protection from the old monovalent shots was just 15 percent, according to data from the CDC's VISION network. A bivalent shot increased the protection to 61 percent but that shielding fell to 15 percent between 60 and 119 days and to negative one percent beyond 120 days, CDC researchers found."

- “Negative Effectiveness’ of New COVID Booster, and How the FDA Has ‘Gone Rogue’”
“The FDA has approved the new COVID booster shot—and authorized it for emergency use. But this is not being done without controversy. Florida Surgeon General Joseph Ladapo has warned against the booster, saying “There’s been no clinical trial done in human beings showing that it benefits people. There’s been no clinical trial showing that it is a safe product for people.” So are there reasons for concern over the new shot? And over the FDA’s method for pushing it through? Here to speak with us about the issue is mRNA vaccine technology pioneer and the author of “Lies My Government Told Me,” Dr. Robert Malone.”

- “US Doctors’ Group Says All Mask Mandates ‘Must Be Rescinded’”
“A medical group issued a warning this week about wearing masks for respiratory viruses such as COVID-19, arguing that studies show they don’t prevent their spread and instead violate patients’ rights to informed consent. “As mask mandates are contrary to the fundamental medical principle of informed consent, all masking mandates currently in place must be rescinded, and no future mandates should be imposed,” the Association of American Physicians and Surgeons, a longtime conservative-aligned medical group, said in a statement, likely responding to recent hospital mask mandates that were reimposed in August. The group made reference to research, including a recent paper from the Cochrane Database of Systematic Reviews that concluded numerous studies “did not show a clear reduction in respiratory viral infection with the use of medical/surgical masks,” while there “were no clear differences between the use of medical/surgical masks compared with N95/P2 respirators in healthcare workers when used in routine care to reduce respiratory viral infection.””

- “The Masking Debate Is Settled”
“This large group of international researchers reviewed dozens of rigorously correct, randomized clinical trials of “physical interventions” against respiratory diseases. These diseases included influenza and COVID-19 during the pandemic, and these researchers failed to find even a “modest effect” on infection or illness rates from any type of mask.”
