

Deal With Distractions Quickly

Maintaining our thoughts and activities on things which are a distraction from our work as a son are sure ways to stay ineffective for the Kingdom. That mightn't mean much to some, however, when we come into the Kingdom, it's for the King's purposes, not our own. Sure, we do get 'heaps' out of being in the Kingdom, but entry for personal gain should never be our motive.

As the King's purposes must become our purposes, being distracted is actually 'failure of duty'. Not that he's going to punish us for our laxity, but it means that we hold back the advance of the Kingdom when we're not fully focused.

Here's his recent instructions to stay focused:

“Do not concern yourself with possibilities; it will only lead to distraction. Trust me to perfect those things that concern you, deal with distractions quickly and then refocus. The enemy will do what he can to quench your spiritual desires to serve me,” says the Lord.”¹
