

Father's Wisdom is the Best Guidance, but Who's Listening for it?

It's a very simple truth – a reality – that the wisdom that Father gives us in any situation is the best that we can receive, but who really listens for it?

I know he's been instructing us in the matter of asking for wisdom and then listening for what he supplies, but who's really asking for wisdom when it's needed?

So, again, he instructs us to ask for wisdom and listen for it:

*“When you encounter a situation that seems impossible to deal with, do not panic. Take the time to consider your options and ask for divine guidance. I will give you wisdom,” says the Lord, “and will make a way where there seems to be no way. But, you first must quiet your soul and be still so that you can receive direction.”*¹

Notice that faith is required, as well as quietening the angst that floods our mind, when ever we do the correct thing and seek Father's wisdom in situations and circumstances.

Need I say any more?

Update

More information from Father has recently been received:

*“This is a time when you can solve long-standing problems, but you must not dwell on the problem as much as you seek the solution. I will give you the wisdom you need to see what your next step needs to be. Do not be afraid to move beyond where you are. Put your trust in me” says the Lord.*²
