

Find Your Balance Spiritually, Mentally, Emotionally and Physically

It is quite apparent that Father is drawing us away from being a type of puppet (marionette) where he controls us. That controlling was the outworking of the spiritual maxim that “we only do what we see Father doing and we only speak what he tells us to speak”. That concept came from a biblical idea that was based around the statements of Jesus. However, it was a biblical view of life, not a Kingdom one.

Father is moving us towards maturing as a son and that means we work in partnership with him, just like Jesus did. What we fail to understand about his life – and hence the spoken maxim mentioned above – is that his intimate oneness with Father was where he was able to “see” and “hear”. It was not totally Spirit-led direction that moved him to speak and act. He knew Father’s heart and mind and was able to speak from that position and to act in accordance with it.

This is where Father is taking us so he can get to the point he’s been longing for, which is the manifestation of his sons, as they operate like Jesus did. We’re being taken on that journey of maturity for his plan to materialize, but we can’t do it if we’re held back by religious and legalistic thinking. That includes the Charismatic and Pentecostal spirituality that is holding many of us back from maturing in our sonship. That was the case for me in the past, but I’m now working with Father to mature as quickly as I possibly can. (Of course, I’m always the cause of it not progressing as fast as it should.)

One of the signs of maturing is partnering with Father in our created role to be in charge. That sounds like independence,¹ but it’s not. You see, we tend to swing to extremes when we operate spiritually, when in fact, we’re required to walk the fine line between them. To effect² that type of lifestyle, listening to what Father has to say right now, in the 21st century, is of the utmost importance. Here’s an example:

“Do your best to make wise choices when faced with change. What you decide now will affect everything that you hold dear. Be methodical, and seek help when you need it. Your stability is a crucial element in your well-being. Find your balance spiritually, mentally, emotionally and physically through your connection to My Spirit”, says the Lord.”³

You see, a biblical worldview is not what we’re required to have. We’re strictly not even meant to have a Kingdom worldview. Like Jesus did, we’re meant to have Father’s heart and mind so we can live out of that. Now that’s different.

Laurence

12-5-2023

(www.CanberraForerunners.org)

COPYRIGHT

This document is free to copy, republish and distribute, but only 'as is'. It is free to quote from at length.

All Canberra Forerunners' documents are licensed under

Creative Commons Attribution-NonCommercial-NoDerivs 3.0 Unported License

Quotes are the copyright of their authors.

(Readers will need to look up for themselves any scriptures alluded to in this document)

1 – “Surrender or Independence, that’s the Big Question”

canberraforerunners.org/wp-content/uploads/Surrender-or-Independence-That-is-the-Big-Question.pdf

2 – “Effect change’ is a verb phrase that means to bring about a different state of affairs.”

writingexplained.org/affect-change-or-effect-change

3 – Marsha Burns “Small Straws in the Soft Wind” (May 11, 2023) ft111.com/smallstraws.htm [ARCHIVE: ft111.com/straws2023.htm]