

“I’m Training and Preparing You for the Coming Days”

Father has been telling us for years that he’s preparing us for the future. That future is not some end-time rapture or Armageddon. He’s actually getting us ready for what’s ahead of us, and he’s doing that every day. That preparation is for tomorrow, as much as it is for sometime a long way ahead.

He has our lives planned, as well as the lives of every person living today. All he needs is for each person to agree with him that his plans are the best and then align themselves with him (every day) so those can come to fruition.

It’s all up to us. He wants us to surrender to his training because he doesn’t force us.¹ He allows us to live as his autonomous created beings but surrendering to his will in partnership, not slavery. That’s how he’s set it up to work.

Here’s his latest reminder of what he’s doing with us and our need to be tuned in to that:

“I am training and preparing you for the coming days. Your calling is unique and so is the preparation I am leading you through. Nothing can hinder what I am doing in you...”

Soon, very soon, you will be astounded at the changes I have made in your life. You will move from being in shadows to living in the brilliance of my glory, from confusion to comfort. Why would you doubt? ...

I am preparing you! Do not judge my plans for your life by the momentary mess that’s around you or the situation you find yourself in...”²

If we focus on the negativity in our lives, we’ll miss what he’s planning – that’s what he just meant in his last statement above. Therefore, we must overcome negativity and not allow it to overtake us. As he also advised us:

“Refuse to be overwhelmed by the challenges you face. When you get rattled, you must take an even strain, quiet your soul, and settle down. Ask for wisdom and without a doubt you will receive it. Do not allow fear to overcome your senses.”³

We operate in partnership with him, not only as sons, but also as the human beings he created to be his modus operandi on the Earth. Truly, therefore, we must make one of our main priorities his training of us, as well as the experiences he’s putting us through, so we can become who he wants us to be, ASAP.
