

It will be a Battle to Overturn the Influence of the Global Elite

While walking this morning I had an understanding released to me of the big job ahead for conservatives around the world to neutralize the influence of the global Elite and bring a stop to their agendas.

This revelation came as a bit of a shock to me. I've been aligning myself with Father's plan for The Restoration of All Things through his sons, so having others work towards making change for the better didn't seem to fit his plan. However, I've had to accept the contrary download that I received.

The inspiration came after reading the editorial "Ugly Climate Change Battle Sweeps Conservatives Into Power"<sup>1</sup> by Eric Abetz, a previous senator for the Australian Liberal Party. Here's an extract of what he wrote:

"Globally, since the election of President Donald Trump in the United States in 2016, some of the most powerful democratic nations have seen major conservative shifts, specifically in the West.

Noteworthy is Giorgia Meloni in Italy, promising personal sovereignty. She's been serving as the prime minister since October 2022 and was elected at a time when the country was reeling from the loss of freedoms arising from the pandemic lockdowns. She's holding a holiday festival for conservatives, and she's invited British Prime Minister Rishi Sunak and champion of free speech Twitter/X owner Elon Musk.

Also, Geert Wilders of the Netherlands, known as the Dutch Donald Trump, recently came to power in the country. He did not get the votes to sit in the highest office, but his Party for Freedom now holds the majority. He's anti-immigration, a problem plaguing Europe.

Finally, Javier Milei in Argentina, famous for pledging to take a chainsaw to the state, is a wild card. A former soccer player, you may have seen his face photoshopped onto the United States hundred dollar bill due to his dedication to sticking with the dollar and cutting economic ties with China. He's vehemently opposed to socialism and he's already eliminated nine bureaucratic agencies in his first days leading the country.

Do the elections of these populists signal a real turn away from a global totalitarian power overreach?"<sup>2</sup>

As I mused over his article in my mind as I walked, I came to a number of realisations (inspirations):

1. We can't wait for the full manifestation of "the sons of God" to see evil dealt with.
2. A lot of damage is done while wait for that manifestation as it may take another 100 years or more to come into effect.
3. The lives of individuals living these days are oppressive, and it will only get worse, if nothing is done about it now.
4. People working for good (like Jesus of Nazareth did) will work in tandem with sons in these times.
5. Sons will need to work in the world as well as in the Kingdom to see changes take place around them.
6. When we do work for good, it must be done Father's way and with his heart, otherwise it will be counter-productive for the Kingdom.

I also came to the realization that there are successful counter-moves going on at this very moment as the public begin to oppose the efforts of The Elite for world domination.

The new, 2023 NZ government has 'set the ball rolling' by working to take back what the woke, PC and the Left have put in place. They were elected into power on the mandate to make such changes, so it is heartening to see that they have begun doing so, despite the opposition.

them to embrace the arrangements necessary to form and stay in government.

This will be the task confronting Geert Wilders as he seeks to cobble together a cohesive government from the latest round of elections in the Netherlands which saw his Freedom Party win the most seats of any party, but still far shy from a majority.”<sup>18</sup>

Javier Milei, Argentina's New Libertarian President is a case in point:

“Argentina's President-elect Javier Milei set forth an ambitious agenda that clinched his victory in the recent election, including a pledge to abolish the country's central bank and switch to the U.S. dollar.

Despite speculation of a potential shift toward more moderate policymaking in the lead-up to his inauguration, Mr. Milei has reiterated his determination to shutter the central bank, calling it “non-negotiable.”

With Argentina now gearing up for the possibility of a nation without a central bank and a shift to the U.S. dollar from the peso, many economists are discussing whether these measures would help resuscitate the economy.”<sup>19</sup>

He recently confrontationally addressed the WEF at the 2024 Davos meeting and scolded them on what they were doing to the people of the world:

“Milei’s main target was socialism and all those who want to use state power to override the decisions of people in the marketplace. He is an economist so naturally that was his main focus. The enemy of humanity, he declared, is socialism in all its forms. Echoing Ronald Reagan, he said repeatedly that the government is not the solution but the core problem. The answer is always and everywhere free-market capitalism...”

Many world leaders need to hear his detailed demographic demonstration of the prosperity that came with free markets and how they seriously improved the lot of everyone for two centuries at least. In his view, the idea of socialism is the enemy of a prosperous society and therefore must be rejected. He went further to say that all varieties of socialism threaten fundamental values of the West.”<sup>20</sup>

Italy’s new conservative Prime Minister, Giorgia Meloni, is also moving away from Leftist direction after she was elected to put her nation’s interest first and foremost:

“Her rise to power at the head of the party she founded has been meteoric...Although she has led her party for 10 years, her experience in government is limited to a spell as Italy's youngest minister in the Berlusconi government from 2008-11. Her party won the September 2022 elections with 26% of the vote, even though it had polled only 4.3% four years earlier.

"Italians have sent a clear message in favour of a right-wing government led by Brothers of Italy," she declared after her election win. With her partners from the far-right League and centre-right of ex-prime minister Silvio Berlusconi, she has a strong majority to steer through her programme.

A clue to her priorities came in a typically raucous speech she gave in Spain last June.

In an effort to move Italy away from the influence of major powers, she is pulling away from the country's connection with China:

"Italy is pulling out of China's Belt and Road Initiative (BRI), delivering a major blow to the communist regime's ambitious project.

"The tool of the (BRI) ... has not produced the results that were expected," she added.

The BRI memorandum of understanding between Rome and Beijing was valid until March 2024. Italy had to decide before the end of this year whether it opted to end the agreement. Otherwise, the deal would be automatically renewed for another five years."<sup>21</sup>

And, it continues elsewhere, all over the globe:

*"Rejection is a fact of life. It's an unwelcome fact that spares no-one including the World Health Organisation (WHO). They've been banging on the doors of countries like determined encyclopaedia salesmen offering up benefits of the pandemic instrument and the International Health Regulations (IHR). Yet while a number of the doors have swung open wider than the proverbial jaws of an insatiable crocodile, some are being slammed shut. first sign that the Australian public are 'sick to death' of the Elite's agenda to destroy democracy and national sovereignty, and to bring in autocratic control.<sup>29</sup> However, the national momentum of dissidence is building in many ways.<sup>30</sup> For Example: The push-back on those who wanted to cancel Australia Day is a new catalyst for increased dissidence.<sup>31</sup>

Also, some church leaders have voiced the need to eliminate wokeness and political correctness (PC) from church organisations. For example:

"Woke ideology is infiltrating American society—and even the Church. Eric Metaxas, author of 'Letter to the American Church,' argues that if Christians don't stand up to this subversion of our society, then they are complicit in what's happening. We spoke to Mr. Metaxas at Turning Point's AmericaFest in Phoenix, Ariz. about how faith without action is not true faith."<sup>32</sup>

What Can Be Done

Firstly, as the efforts of conservatives and Centre-right individuals in the community work to restore sensible conditions for our nation, we must not work against them or attack them for not working for The Kingdom. This is very easy to do from an us-versus-them mentality and from spiritual pride. We must avoid such negative mindsets in ourselves and our ekklesias.

Secondly, we must not support violence, anarchy or hate language among those outside of The Kingdom as they work against the Elite's plans. Especially, we must not get drawn into such activities ourselves.

Thirdly, we must operate out of Father's heart at all times, showing love to others, while resisting their efforts to destroy our society and us as a nation. This will be hard for us to do, but we must function as sons at all times, even when working in opposition to others, even large percentages of the nation. Actually, this was demonstrated by Jacinta Nampijinpa Price<sup>33</sup> and Nyunggai Warren Mundine<sup>34</sup> for the NO campaign<sup>35</sup> against the Aboriginal Voice to Parliament referendum for Australians in 2023.

So how can we support those who are working outside of the Kingdom to prevent the takeover by the global Elites? Here's a few suggestions:

1. Fly the Australian flag outside your house to show your support for the way the nation is currently. If necessary, because of attacks from others, just do it for the week of Australia Day.
2. Answer with facts when people ask you questions. Do it without fear, but be judicious in what you say, and to whom you say it.
3. Don't be silent. Speak up when you hear ignorance being spoken, but be honouring and caring as you do.
4. Don't get into heated arguments. These serve no purpose. Just say what you need to say and quietly, but firmly, answer any questions.
5. Report or confront what's out of alignment with the best running of the nation and it's institutions, as well as bad government policy.
6. Use the ballot box to oust those who do not align with the best interests of the nation.

7. Support minor parties who are not Left, environmental, global-aligned, socialist, Labor-supporting or want more government control.
8. Take kids to another school when the teaching is not in alignment with sound knowledge that builds up our nation, supports democracy and promotes freedom.
9. Choose private schools for your children where they have the right values and don't try to indoctrinate pupils with woke ideas, socialism and political correctness.
10. Homeschool your children so you can train them as well as have them taught the right facts, history and beliefs.<sup>36</sup>
11. Take your business elsewhere – Businesses respond to customer pressure, especially when revenue drops.<sup>37</sup>

REMEMBER: They will assess us by our words and by the fruits of our lives. This is critical for us to keep a check on.

If we say nothing, the 'Silent Majority' will continue to be trampled on and evil will succeed. In World War II, it was the allies who rose up to defeat the expanding tyranny and evil of the Japanese, Italian and German axis, who were successful in creating the peace in the West we've had since then. However, evil continues to work in other ways when stymied, so today, it is working through the Global Elites, communism, Socialism and the UN (just to name a few). We cannot be silent and inactive. If we had done so in WWII, Australia would most likely be a Japanese territory today.

IMPORTANT: There must be no distractions from the King's work for us. We can't afford to be diverted into the work that outsiders are doing – that's not Kingdom. We can support their efforts, if it's part of our responsibilities in raising our children, where we buy our goods, and who we vote for, but it must not take hold of our heart and mind.

The Outcome

This remains unknown to us. Therefore, we wait and see who will join the move against the Elite, globalisation, wokeness, political correctness, and government control.

We also wait and see how many sons manifest over the coming years, and how many of them align with Heaven and mature in a way that empowers them to impact the nation in a significant way.
