

Time to Get Real

(A conversational prophetic messages recorded on the 8th March 2024)

Question: Father, what were you wanting to say to us this morning?

Message

Personal Aspects

“This is a great¹ morning, it’s been great every morning. There’s no morning that is not great, not amazing in its potential. That’s the way you have to see each day, no matter what’s going on around you. Don’t let a ‘cloud’ come over the enjoyment of a new day. You’ll never exhaust the supply of good days, because my days are always good. Days with me, therefore, are always good.

This is not a trick question, but what are you doing about your mornings, your days that you start, day after day? What are you thinking about? What are you pondering on? What is it that drives you forward? Is your focus on me? Is the Kingdom of vital importance for you each day? Simple questions: not trick questions.

I’m never trying to trick you and get you to do what I want. I’m never trying to ‘trip you up’ to make you look silly or stupid. As a father, I want the best for you, but do you want the best for yourself? You strive day after day, week after week, month after month, to improve your lives. But are you achieving what you want, what you desire? Are you achieving what’s necessary, what’s essential? ...”

Kingdom Implications

“...These are other important questions you need to ask yourself and face up to, because at the beginning of every day, you have the potential to realise greatness, success, and many other things that you desire. The best place to work towards prosperity and success, of course, is with me. If you work in harmony with me, in alignment with your heart and mind, you’ll see better outcomes than you ever anticipated. Of course, to realise in your heart and mind the benefits of working with me, you’ll need to have your attitudes and your mentality² changed. That’s why you need to align with me.

While ever you have the wrong attitudes towards life, towards promotion, towards success, and all the other desires that your civilization and your culture have [programmed you with]³, you’ll not be able to achieve the greatest achievements that are possible. Those achievements come through working with me.

Now I want to stipulate, right here and now, that not everybody will reach the pinnacle in their chosen area of life and vocation – not everyone can be at the top. So, the mindset that you need to have every day is, “Where will I feel the most at ease, the most successful, the most at peace?” and learn, at the same time, to be content where you are. Because, in the Kingdom, I work with you wherever you are – we work as a team. If you’re focused just on yourself, rather than on the Kingdom, you’ll miss all the benefits I’ll pour into you and out through you to others. You’ll miss the joy and the success that you’ll have as you work with me, if you only look at where you want to go and what you want to achieve.

So see each day positively, and take on the attitude that it will be a great day, every day, every morning, as you move off into life. Of course, there will be opposition, there’ll be [difficult] situations and circumstances, but if your trust is in me, with your focus on the Kingdom, and you live out of your identity as a son, those are just ephemeral things that disappear very quickly as they arise. That’s because you allow me to work with you, through everything.

Don’t put burdens on yourself that are not required. I don’t give you any burdens. Others put burdens on you, and mostly, you put burdens on yourself. The Kingdom is one of peace and rest, as well as work, and if you live out of peace and rest, in every area of your being, you'll see that days are good – no matter what's going on around you, no matter the turmoil that might be there. But, you'll need to allow me to train you and teach you, so you can operate like that.

1 – INFERENCE: ‘full of expectation and potential’

2 – INFERENCE: Your mindsets.

3 – Added so the sentence conveys the right meaning when read. All other square brackets have the same function. [LDS]

Society doesn't teach you how to operate as sons in the Kingdom, so you need me to do that for you. Therefore, as you surrender each day to me, surrender yourselves. Allow me to deprogram you and reprogram you, because you need to eliminate all those negative thoughts, attitudes, teachings, and beliefs, that will hinder you working with me.

I operate in reality, and simply put, most people operate in 'dream-time'. They operate out of their hopes and dreams, which is not reality at all. So, to use a colloquial expression, "Get real!" because the Kingdom and myself are real. They are more real than the life that you live, more real than the natural realm. When you work with me, you're working with reality, and that's the best foundation to build your life on.

So, the challenge to change and move forward with me, is there – it's always been there. Out of love, I'm drawing you into that, every day, as often as I can, because I can't always get your attention. Relax and be quiet, and spend some time allowing me to connect with you, because the 'hustle and bustle' of life causes you to work out of your mind and your emotions – your heart, mind and soul, that is – not your spirit. It's your spirit that connects with me, and it's your spirit that needs to rise up and become more dominant.

Don't lose heart as dark times approach and fade away. You can remain even-keeled, stable, by working with me and allowing my Kingdom to rule in your life."
