

Make Sure You Take A Second Look

Father has been teaching us for quite some time now to work with ‘the big picture’, that is, his plans for our lives, our nation, and the world. We forget the importance of this when life is all consuming for us with work, bills, relational issues, inflation, energy shortages, etc. Being aware of his ‘big picture’ is our Kingdom responsibility as sons and one which takes most of us considerable reprogramming to shift our attitude and our thinking in that direction.

That being said, we can still fall into the trap of religion and be totally engrossed in our personal concept of ‘the big picture’ – what we think is important. Taking that tack can cause us to miss out on partnering with him on what he’s actually doing. We can even miss out on what he’s allotted us to do as part of our Kingdom assignments.

Recently, he has reminded us of our propensity to move into that type of misalignment, as well as our need to be more balanced and focused in our thought processes, and what we pay attention to:

“These are days that seem to require a second look to make sure you have done what was required before you move forward. It is easy to overlook details by looking at the big picture of where you are and what is required of you. Be diligent and make sure you have achieved that which was set before you to accomplish,” says the Lord.”¹

Even in our lives in society, we can be more concerned with our own ‘big picture’ goals and aspirations, and miss out on the important details which impact on those plans and our responsibilities.
