More on this Current Time in the Kingdom

(June 2026)

Following on from the prophetic insight I was given concerning the current season we are in,[1] a time when Forerunners are leading the vanguard for the restoration of all things, this is an update. More information is being received to cement this time in our understanding and to equip us with the knowledge we need to move forward without deviation. There will be glory rising alongside the rise of darkness, so we must focus on where we are going and make sure we are aligning with Heaven every step of the way. Read on!

NOTE: There are very, very few prophetic messages around of relevance to what's going on in the Kingdom right now.

►In addition, I have not included any prophetic messages that don't measure up to an acceptable standard of Kingdom style and content◄

KINGDOM MESSAGES

King's Counsel (Canberra)

(★ Message received on 17-6-2026)

Question: Lord, I understand that we're all on a spiritual journey, every single one of us. What is it that you want to tell your people in Australia about this?

Message #1:

(NOTE: This message is directed to his people, individually, so "you" is his personal address to each reader)

Concerning Others

"Yes. Every single person – not just my people, but every single person – is looking for something spiritual. Of course, the pressures of life and circumstances will often override that.

Given the realities of life for every person, basically, they're looking for something spiritual, something greater than themselves. They may not realise this. They mightn't even have an inkling that that's what they're looking for, but they are on a spiritual journey. Some are just at the beginning of their journey after living for decades, because something has 'twigged'[3] inside them that there must be more, or there must be a higher being, or something like that.

So when you see somebody on a different journey to yourself, I tell you straight, let them be on their journey. I'm taking them on their journey, not you, so it's 'hands off' as the directive from me. If I should encourage you, through my Spirit, to speak to them on matters of the spirit, then that's your duty to do so. But please take care that it is my Spirit that's encouraging you to speak, and not your emotions.

Interacting with others is not about 'full-on' evangelism, it's about impacting them. You can impact them with your life and your words, but most importantly with your love, your compassion, your grace, and your mercy, as you exhibit my character in their presence. By all means, encourage them to keep looking if they don't ask questions or if they object to your own personal beliefs. Encouraging them will put you in a good relationship with them.

I know this is vastly different to what you've learnt and what you've been told. But every single human being has autonomy, the self-will that we've given them, and it's their responsibility to follow through on the journey that they're on – the journey of life and their spiritual journey, both of them, to see them accomplished.

It's not your responsibility to force them, in any way, to believe what you believe. And remember that not everything you believe is correct, anyway, because the source of truth is me. So that puts a different perspective on it, and it means that you'll leave them to me and let me take them on their journey, rather than you dictating to them what they should be doing, and what they should be believing.

If you take my example – when I was on Earth as Jesus of Nazareth – I just calmly spoke to people and talked to them in parables rather than 'ramming things down their throat'. I loved them and cared for them. I assisted them with their difficulties and with their problems. I was never forceful. I was never demanding. I always allowed people to make their own choices.

I want you to see it this way: everybody is on their own spiritual journey, even those who are going in the wrong direction, in opposition to me. They are still on a spiritual journey that they're responsible for and if you take your 'hands off' and allow me to interact with them in their own time, I'll continue to draw them to myself, away from where they're heading.

So, be more at rest, and allow people to make their own decisions. Cease putting pressure on them, and cajoling them into believing what you believe.

It may be hard for you to take your 'hands off', but I demonstrated that love is the means that you need to operate in. It's your basis, not your head knowledge, because – believe it or not – most of your head knowledge is based on the Tree of the Knowledge of Good and Evil. That is, about right and wrong. Whereas, the Kingdom operates on the Tree of Life, which is about love and my character.

Concerning Yourself

In closing, the most important thing is to watch what your spiritual journey is like. Are you sticking with me? Are you aligning with me? Are you travelling at the pace that I'm drawing you, teaching you and training you to move on? Hmmm. Something to think about. You all have a tendency to want to solve everybody else's problems and to direct their lives, when your responsibility is your own life.

So, my final instruction to you is to look after your own spiritual journey. That's what you're responsible for, and there are greater things – vastly greater things – ahead, if you stick with me and allow me to teach you and train you through my Spirit.

Stick with me. Learn to hear from me and hear clearly. Get your head out of books, and into intimacy and oneness with me. Get rid of all your fears that I might be taking you in the wrong direction. I never do. [That's] because the future of humanity is so vastly greater than any person can imagine. [But] my people have to enter into their destiny, as they were made in my image and likeness to functions like me: to be like me, and so to manage the cosmos on my behalf.

Just think about that and the journey you're on at the moment. Will your journey take you there? Or is your theology and your hopes in error?"

Message #2:

(Background: I received this message as I was on my walk this morning, soon after receiving message #1. It's intended to be instruction for those who regard themselves as spiritually mature.)

Concerning Your Future

"So, you think you've arrived spiritually?

That's a pretty great assumption. In fact, it's a presumption, when you consider how much spiritual knowledge there is in reality, which is contained in my mind. Do you think you know all the spiritual knowledge that I have?

You have access to all the spiritual knowledge of the universe and the spirit realm, because you have access to me. Do you know all that? No. So you have a long way to go in your spiritual journey. [That's] because I desire that you learn more and more spiritual realities, so you can function as the son that you were created to be.

There's just so much I want to tell you, but you won't be able to grasp it because it's not within your training and your understanding to comprehend your responsibilities. Your responsibilities are vast, and in 'The Age to Come'[4] you'll enter into those, but don't leave everything for the future. The spiritual journey you're on at the moment is vital, because you're part of the forerunners for 'The Restoration of All Things'[5], which is the responsibility of my people to bring about the restoration of the planet, [both] the biological and the physical side, which we'll do together.

It's a magnificent responsibility that you have. It's full of glory, but it's something my people haven't been taught about, or they've shied away from. But this is the journey you're really on: to mature in your sonship so you manifest the Kingdom in the way that I did,[6] so that you impact people, you impact nature, and the natural realm will respond to you. This is the ultimate spiritual journey, but you have to take small steps at a time, to head in that direction.

I know the cares and concerns of life keep you distracted, so that's what I just referred to is not 'on your radar'[7]. It's so far out of your grasp because there are too many other things that require your attention. But I tell you, the reason I instruct you to draw from me and totally rely on me in absolute trust, is so I can take care of those things that are distracting you as you live in rest and peace. I can then direct your spirit towards the things that really matter for the Kingdom. I can't do that until you get to the point of reducing, or even cancelling, your reliance on yourself, and totally trusting me. By that, I mean trusting me for absolutely everything, not just a few things. Not just to keep you safe, keep you well, keep you in a job, but total[8] trust.

Yes, that's what's required to be able to be free from the concerns of life, so you can move with your spirit as my Spirit takes you on that journey towards your destiny. That's the destiny that every human being has, but most do not achieve it because they have no understanding.

Therefore, keep an eye on yourself, rather than others. It's your spiritual journey that matters. You may be concerned for others, but your responsibility is to be concerned about the things that I'm concerned about, the things that are important and are priorities for me. That's your job as a son, to partner with me in those things.

So get everything straightened out in your own life, and demonstrate to others by your lifestyle what a spiritual journey should be like. That's putting it very plainly for you."[9]
