

More on this Current Time in the Kingdom

(May 2024)

Following on from the prophetic insight I was given concerning the current season we are in,¹ a time when Forerunners are leading the vanguard for the restoration of all things, this is an update. More information is being received to cement this time in our understanding and to equip us with the knowledge we need to move forward without deviation. There will be glory rising alongside the rise of darkness, so we must focus on where we are going and make sure we are aligning with Heaven every step of the way. Read on!

NOTE: There are very, very few prophetic messages around of relevance to what's going on in the Kingdom right now.

In addition, I have not included any prophetic messages that don't measure up to an acceptable standard of Kingdom style and content.

KINGDOM MESSAGES

Lana Vawser

(★ Extract from a prophetic article published on 21-5-2024)

"Recently, I heard the Lord say, 'Birth, birth, birth, birth, birth.' As he spoke...I saw many who have been so disillusioned by the paths they have walked this year and many have been feeling like they have 'missed it' or 'don't understand what's happening'. Many have felt like they have been living in a very intense space of battle, and swirling chaos. It was then when I heard the Lord say:

'There has been great opposition against what I have placed within you, what I am birthing in this hour through you, and against what you will birth and build, in all I have appointed you to. You have also been through the rough waters of transition and in the transitional place. My fire has intensified to bring forth that which is pure and refined as gold. I have been preparing you for such a time as this and brought you into a place of deeper intimacy with me, where I have continued to solidify and fortify your foundation within me. The transition season has been difficult and I have been with you at each and every step. I have not left you, and I have been preparing you for this very moment that you have now entered.

'For, many of you have looked at your season that you have walked and have misinterpreted transition and Refiner's fire for mistakes. My people, in this time of transition there has been intense shifting and shaking and I am pruning at a level that is deeper than you have known: but many of you have labelled yourselves as ones who have stepped in the wrong direction, missed my leading or failed. To those of you, I say unto you, you have not missed me. Your heart is for me and you have been living before me in laid down surrender and worship unto me, and I see your heart of purity before me to minister unto me. Many of you have been living under such weight of failure and condemnation and I say unto you, this is not from me. As you have allowed my Spirit to examine your heart in the light of my presence and you have come before me, you have seen that you have obeyed all that I have asked you to do. Yet you have been tormented in disillusionment, wondering why it seems that the grace for what was before, seems to no longer be there. My people, that is because I am bringing you into the new. The season has changed. I have new things for you. I have new expressions of my heart and new assignments for you that you are about to see birthed in the coming days, weeks and months. There has been an accelerated, deep refining: and now you shall see the continuation of the multiple births that I have for you, that will now take place in ways and areas that you did not expect. I am expanding your territories and I am flushing out all alignments that would hinder these new assignments...I am inviting you into a realm of understanding my mysteries and strategies, and receiving my divine wisdom that will lead you in the unfamiliar assignments that I have for you.

‘My people, many of you I see are trying to hold onto old relationships and take everyone with you into all that I have for you and am birthing through you: but there are some that cannot go with you in this hour. The season has changed and it’s time to release. It’s time to go where I am calling you to go, and know that I am bringing those alongside you who can go with you. Seasons change and those you walk with change: and I am bringing you into a place where you are going to have to lean into me and my Spirit and wisdom in a way you have not before. You are going to have to live in a place of understanding my voice and my strategy like never before: and there are some who will try and talk you out of my strategy, and they cannot go with you. You continue to love and bless those, but it is time to let go of some relationships that have shifted...

‘Do not mourn what was, and no longer look back: look forward to all that I have for you. For now you are entering into a realm of supernatural empowerment and grace that you have not known. It is going to carry you into realms of seeing my power and authority manifest in and through you and what I call you to put your hands to, that will leave you in awe. You will remember these days you have walked full of mourning, dryness and brokenness no more. You are now coming into context like never before. You will now understand why you have walked what you have walked: for I am raising you up in this hour to carry my glory and see my glory manifested in a whole new way. You must lean in close and listen to my instruction, and not run ahead with excitement and passion. Do not allow excitement and passion to lead you into running ahead of me, but allow my passion and expectancy to grow within you as you sit before me and listen to my voice and my instruction. I will teach you and instruct you with each step, how to build that which I am birthing through you in this hour. You must remain teachable and dependent upon me in this hour, for a great sifting and shaking is coming in greater intensity and my glory will rest upon the humble, teachable and dependent places, those that know me in profession, heart and deed.

‘My people, keep your hands open. Hold nothing tightly but me. For in this birthing that is taking place I am rearranging, and some things you must let go of and allow them to fall to the ground for the season is done and it is over and my grace has lifted. You must release, in order to receive the new that I have for you. Do not get stuck in fear over provision, applause of man, or your own understanding. You must lean deeply into all that I am doing — even when you don’t understand — and obey my leading and command. The pressure has been intense and the birth pangs have felt like, for some of you, that you would not survive them: but I have kept you. But in order to steward my heart and my glory in this hour, you must remain open handed and laid down. The choice to obey me or man is going to become more real in this hour than ever before. Fear of man will be laid bare on a whole new level. It’s time to arise and stand and allow me to birth through you that which I have prepared for you, however it looks. For I am raising you up to the sound of my heart and my ways, not to the sound of the applause of man. I am raising up those who have truly died to self: those who are knowing and following my ways, living in deep humility before me.

‘Watch the winds of my Spirit accelerate all that I have for you now. Watch the assignments that you shall put your hands to in humility and obedience before me. See my Spirit take you into a realm of divine insight and spiritual understanding that you have not known. For this is the hour of my Specific instruction and strategy. Where you have felt like strategy has been far from you — and clouded by attacks of witchcraft, haze and weariness — now you shall know the divine intel of my heart and strategies and wisdom from my word and my heart. You will see all you put your hands to be terrains of transformation as they become habitations of my glory.”³

(★ Extract from a prophetic article published on May 2024?)

“I have a word for the nation of Australia, but I also speak prophetically about what many are experiencing personally.⁴ For this purpose, I have split this word into two parts to ensure the two are distinct. You can find the second word here at: <https://nateandchristy.co/for-those-in-a-ground-zero-moment>. The night after we flew into Australia, I had a dream. In the dream, I saw two towers in the middle of the Outback of Australia, towering through the clouds, when suddenly they came crashing down, one after the other. Then, I was taken into another scene. In the place where the towers were, people were weeping at the site—then I heard "ground zero." This felt the same as the ground zero site in New York City, and like the physical site, I saw masses gathering around the destruction and weeping and travelling over the fall of these towers.”

“For in this hour, I am leading my church back to her roots, says the Lord. I am waking Lazarus up, and he is taking off the grave clothes of an era of oppression and spiritual death...”

“I prophesy that your hibernation is over! The days of only barely surviving are over. For you have said, "We are Aussie battlers, and when times get tough, we know how to hunker down," but your days of hiding and surviving are over. The Aussie battler mindset is breaking, and you are becoming the Aussie warriors that I called you to be, says the Lord. It's time to wake up from your sleep, Lazarus. It's time to shake off the death sentence the enemy gave you, your health, your marriage, and your calling. You must leave the pews of environments that have kept you asleep at a time when you are meant to come alive...”

“Wild and free. Potent. Pioneers. The tip of the spear. Underestimated. The apple of my eye. My David company, the Lord says. You have been knocked down many times, but you keep getting back up again. This season marks the dawning of a new day and a new beginning. Do not grieve that you are at ground zero because this is where the Lord rebuilds you just as he rebuilds this nation. Your seed has fallen to the ground and died. Your promises have fallen to the ground. And now you are left feeling soul sick and hopeless, but now says the Lord, I will TURN this nation around and turn your life around. For in the place of death and destruction shall come the greatest breakthrough season and outpouring...”

“Australia, this is a season in which I am rebranding you both personally and as a nation, the Lord says. For too many decades, you have had to battle the tall poppy spirit that has sought to cut you down and enlisted you to cut down your brothers and sisters, but those days are over. For now, I am going to end that assignment once and for all by raising a generation of mothers and fathers who will break the orphan spirit that has kept this land bound. Aussies, it's time to REMEMBER WHO YOU ARE! ...

“I am raising an Eagle company in Australia because the ship has RUN AGROUND...”

“For in this hour, I am breaking the illegitimate handshakes that have been made by people in power and leadership that I didn't ordain, and I am setting a new alliance of a pure-hearted company that seeks only to build my house, says the Lord. This is the alliance of the new ANZACS – the remnant in our nations coming together as one again. It's time for my wild horses to rise again and the nation of Australia to leave the tomb and be the fresh song and sound that rides the wave of revival and impacts the nations.”⁵

(★ Message #1 received on 25-4-2024)

“My will is perfect, because I am perfect. It is my will that established those things that are in existence at the moment and it's my will to see my Creation move forward into its destiny. That is one of my chief aims. I desire my people to align with that, to see perfection return, so that it mirrors my perfection. I desire my people to work towards that, and not to imagine that perfection is only in Heaven. Through my will, I created perfection in the natural realm, but it's been corrupted, and humanity's job is to return it, with assistance from me, to the place that it was⁶. This component of my will is so important.

In regards to my will for my people, I have a corporate⁷ will and an individual will.

My corporate will is to see my people become established as who they really are, so they function as I created them to function. They have formed organisations and religions that, through their mind, they think they are aligning with my will. But, of course, anything that's not of my will, simply will not work to [have them]⁸ align with me and to achieve what I need to achieve.

My people need to grow and mature spiritually, in the way that I desire them to do so, not the way they are taught, or the way that they think they should mature. That's because, aligning with reality – Kingdom reality, my reality – is what's required of them. I don't desire for them to remain ignorant, or immature, but to grow and become effective for me, as they work in my Kingdom. I've spoken a lot about that in the past,⁹ so it's not new that I want them to align with me and to function as sons in partnership, so we can see the effects of 'The Fall' roll back in it's entirety.¹⁰ I can only do so much, because 'my hands are tied' (so to speak) because my people won't align with me so that my will can be achieved in their nation.¹¹

Individually, my will is for each member of my family to achieve the most out of the life they have been given. I gave them life, I created life, so living life is part of my will [for them]. They are to enjoy life. They are to go about life being prosperous, raising families, working diligently, doing good, and impacting others. That's part of my will for them, but individually, I have a purpose for them, and that purpose is not always achieved because they decide to do what they want, rather than to check with me and find out what's best for them and what's in line with my plans.

Of course, my will is the best, and aligning with my will and following my directions on a constant basis, will produce the best outcomes in everyone's lives. I know that's not able to be perfectly achieved, so, graciously, I allow my people to make decisions that sometimes go against my will for them. I forgive them and I release them to continue their lives, but I draw them in gently, wanting them to align with my will for them and my plans for them, so they can prosper at a greater level, and achieve greater things for themselves and for my Kingdom.

I don't want my people to focus sternly¹² on achieving my will [for themselves]. My desire is for oneness with them, each one of them. A relationship of intimacy is critical as we both work together [as a team]. You could say that is the most important part of my will, more important than doing good or expanding my Kingdom. The reason I say that is because, out of our oneness together, everything will flow. They'll find that they align more with me, and will achieve more for my purposes, because they'll have my heart and my mind. I demonstrated this when I was on Earth. Being one with Father allowed me to do exactly what he wanted me to do, and I enjoyed doing it.

So keep the main thing the main thing,¹³ and work and focus on your relationship with me, not to the detriment of life and your responsibilities. Put effort and time into our relationship, because that's what I desire above all things.

If my people want to know more about my will, all that they need to do is continue to listen to me. They can even ask questions, so I can release to them what they need to know at any point in time. In that way, they'll remain as close as possible to my will, and it will take the pressure off them and remove any fear that they may have of failing me.

Life is meant to be enjoyed. That's the way I created it, and I want my people to enjoy life, and not put pressure on themselves which is undue.”¹⁴

(★ KCC Message #2 received on 7-5-2024)

“Reality is what's real. I'm real. The things of the spirit realm are real. Real is what exists, and what is and has been. It's not in the minds of men¹⁵. As I am reality, I am The Truth.

If you speak what is real, you speak the truth. If you receive [and then speak]¹⁶ what I give you, you're speaking the truth that you know, because you've received what's real.*

Real relates to what is. It's not speculation, it's not theology, it's not a hypothesis, but it's what actually exists. It's actually what has been said, and what actually has been meant by what was said.

All my thoughts are reality. All my plans and purposes are reality. Everything I've spoken for a purpose and to specific people, has been a reality. Reality doesn't change – it just is, in the same way that I Am.

What's real, is what my people should be seeking, and that's always found in me. It's true that there are real things outside of me, such as those within your life experiences. But, anything else that's outside of your personal experience, needs to come from me, if it's to be absolute reality.

You already know this, because truth is relative, relative to a person's experience and relative to what they know and what they've been taught, as well as their heart attitudes.

As I don't change, I'm constant, therefore, what I say and do, is real. And, you can 'bank' on what I say and what I do to be the truth. That's not your interpretation of what I say and do, but it's what I actually say and do that's real – that's reality.

My people need to come to me to find what's real. When they find what's real, they'll find the truth – absolute truth, not relative truth. This is why they need to listen to what I say to them. They need to ask me questions and enquire of me, like this message [does].

I'm always wanting to give them reality. In other words, my absolute truth. So, seeking me, listening, aligning with me, and partnering with me, are all part of the reality. Just like the Kingdom is already here, and sonship is the way my people are supposed to live – that's reality.

Nothing that's 'trumped up', belongs to me. Nothing that's fake, imitation, or erroneous, belongs to me. I call my people in Australia to look to me, to receive from me personally. To work on their intimate relationship with me, so it develops into deep oneness, and so we can be of one heart and one mind. Then they'll know what's real, they'll know the truth. They'll function out of that reality, and they'll represent the truth as it actually is – as it really is.”¹⁷
