

We're NOT Meant to Change Man-made Systems

When I was an Evangelical Pentecostal, I had a passionate desire to change the systems of my nation because I hated what was going on in them. Of course, the drive behind my desire was hate, an emotion foreign to the Kingdom. However, I believed strongly that it was my responsibility to change it “for Jesus” because it was either unrighteous or evil.

The 7 Mountain (7M) teaching of Lance Wallnau¹ and others only fuelled my desire to bring about change, but again, I was misdirected in the way I thought it had to happen.

Since coming to have an experiential relationship with Father and our Beloved², I see that I was ‘way off beam’ with my desire to bring about change. Even though it is important to have sons in the world system, working for the Kingdom, their role is to impact others, not the system. Like Jesus of Nazareth, our role is being people-changers, not system-changers. That’s a hard concept to grasp, but it’s the King’s way, the Kingdom way. Of course, when people are impacted, and change in large numbers, they influence the places they work and how they vote, and that brings about positive changes in a nation.

The 7M strategy that was given by the King to Lance, and prophetically to Johnny Enlow,³ has been hijacked by people’s religious or worldly thinking. 7M teaching is actually about impacting others so they become change-agents. If you undertake Lance’s course⁴ and listen to his testimonies of institutional changes, you’ll find out that’s the case, and it’s the way I have taught 7M.

Recently, I taught that the 7M model is not wrong per se, but needs to be understood properly. As I wrote:

“If 7M doesn’t (or didn’t) gel with a believer, was it therefore wrong? No. It just means they were/are not sensitive to the new ideas our King is releasing to his people. In addition, they may not have the personal policy to have always asked him to explain or expand on what he’s releasing. After all, new paradigms require a paradigm shift in every son. Therefore, it’s up to each of us whether that required shift can take place or not.

From what I’ve covered, what can we say about the ‘wrongness’ of the 7M paradigm then? Nothing definitive, unless our King tells us. However, here’s some possibilities, seeing that the strategy was released as a blueprint from Heaven:

- 1. It has run its course over the past 40 years and is no longer supported by the Kingdom*
- 2. It’s running in parallel with the new paradigm for those who are called to impact society that way*

As I stated, unless the King (or Father) tells us his mind on 7M, we cannot make any judgement that it’s “wrong” or not.”⁵

IMPORTANT: We’re at a stage in this ‘new era of the Kingdom’⁶ where the King is moving us on to understand Kingdom methods and protocols, and to operate within them as sons. This is why our thinking needs to change to align with him. Sons can no longer operate in mixture, using worldly or religious thinking. In that respect, we noted a long time ago, that the church system operates in mixture. We ceased doing the same, and yet we are still operating in mixture – world/Kingdom mixture. TIME TO CHANGE.

One of the protocols that the Kingdom operates under is this: Only those things that have come from a blueprint from Heaven, belong in the Kingdom. That means, anything that’s man-made which the King hasn't authorized, planned and initiated, will not be regenerated by any type of purification. The Mosaic worship and sacrificial system operated by making worldly things holy, but it was undertaken under the auspices of the Old Covenant (OC). The Kingdom has nothing to do with the OC, so we cannot transfer protocols from that system into the Kingdom, which operates under the New Covenant (NC). That's mixture, just as much as it is when we do Kingdom work with the tools and structures of the world system.

The King is now moving forward with his initiative, not ours. He's been drawing us in with revelations and downloads about restoration, glory, and sons manifesting as they are meant to, which includes inhabiting Heaven. That means we have to change the way we're approaching everything, so we work with him and for him, not against him. Everything that we do that's not in alignment with him is effectively working against him. We must change our thinking ASAP.

Some ten or so years ago, Father dropped into my spirit, "It's too late for the Creation-Evolution debate". What happened at that time was a complete shift of focus onto the Kingdom and away from Christians operating as righteous people, working against unrighteousness. He was telling me that the old way was to cease and I was to move forward with what he was doing – working with Kingdom sons towards their manifestation and the restoration of what was lost in The Fall. That was the beginning of a new chapter in my life (and for many around the world), so I stopped immediately and he led me into a time of deprogramming and reprogramming in the things of the Kingdom.

We are now at a similar pivotal moment. In this move towards The Restoration of All Things, we have to realign ourselves with him so we're not working in mixture. This move is about how the world systems change. In essence, we must cease trying to change any system in the world that's man-made, and that's everything, including governments, and even the Christian religion. He's taking us – and all of those who will follow – on a journey that may take a generation or more. It will eventually see sons manifesting their full glory as they operate like our prototype⁷ (Jesus of Nazareth), and so bring about the transformation of human life on Earth and The Restoration of All Things.

That may seem too far-fetched, but that's the plan. It must become our plan. That's where he's taking us, because the effects of The Fall have been overturned.⁸

This is the reason he's talked to us about a remnant for so long now. That's essentially what will eventuate in the coming times, as only those who genuinely want to align with his plans will want to move forward with him as co-workers.

Where does that leave you...?

Where does that leave Canberra Forerunners? I'll still provide insight into what's going on in the world around us, so we're aware of what's impacting us. However, I won't be advocating active resistance beyond how we vote in elections, what we support as citizens, and what we 'speak up' about in conversation with others. My focus will be more and more on conveying what the King (King Jesus, not King Charles III) is doing and what he's wanting us to know. Some of that will come from our CCOP prophetic messages, but also what I receive myself and what others are receiving. I expect there will be a change in patronage with Canberra Forerunners, even to the point of having to 'go it alone' myself.

This is a transitional process for sons. It will require a paradigm shift for each of us.

It's not that the King has changed his mind – not at all. It's that the time is right and the spiritual balance⁹ in the world is shifting towards the genuine manifestation of the Kingdom. We need to ‘get onboard’ with this, ASAP, as the alignment of every son with it will push the spiritual balance the Kingdom’s way. Rejecting the new paradigm, working against it, or retreating back into religion, will stymie the Kingdom work that is currently building momentum.

EXAMPLE: Here’s an example of being prepared for this new paradigm.

At the end of February 2021, I began to spend time communing with our King, to find out what he wanted us to do about moving in the direction of the ‘New Ekklesia’, the one that he’d told us about.¹⁰ On 28-3-2021 he gave me a download which I recorded in my Prophetic Journal.¹¹ In it, he warned about operating from our ideas, not from a blueprint from him. The important part of his instructions were these points:

“Take care. Don’t rush into this. You did that with Community (KLC), thinking you knew what was required, but it wasn’t so. Do a better job this time, as a lot depends on you adhering (sticking) to what we release to you. This is a great move for you, even though it seems like a backward step at the moment.

Listen, cut out all the [misguided human effort] and focus on what you are given. What you add will not improve our plan, only weaken it and lead to collapse.

Bring those around you who have the same blueprint for this (task). You already know that (to be the case). I will reveal who these are, so don’t try to find them. Relax and let me do the work in getting things up and running.

It’s your neighbourhood that’s to be your focus from now on. Still keep mentoring and teaching those who ask for it and who seek you out. However, these aren’t your ‘bread & butter’. Look to the locals. Mentor them. Support them and draw them in. Love them. Sup (dine) with them. Get involved in their lives and I’ll do the rest.

Don’t try to make anything happen, just make yourself available and don’t baulk at what I get you to do.”¹²

We’d been working on a partial Kingdom model with our Kingdom Community, but we needed to do it completely his way, rather than what we thought it should be. Being a prototype for Kingdom Communities¹³, our initial concept for designing our community was founded in his statement that we were not to merge with other communities, but to move ahead with him:

“Push ahead with it – SLOWLY – and let it develop under the guidance of my Spirit. I am the Head – you are part of my team. Remember that. Don’t let that ‘deflate’ you as humility and submission to Holy Spirit is the key to advancement and personal development. This community will become a model for others here in Australia, so listen to me as I show you how to structure it and develop it. Don’t move ahead into a commune too quickly as it will implode. WAIT! Wait for the right people and the right connections. [Wait for] when I show you these people and the networks that you are to work with. Step cautiously, but boldly into each phase. Start simply with Sunday meetings with your friends and family as I’ve shown you. Keep it simple. Train them to follow my Spirit and to focus on me. There’s much religion that needs to be reefed out of their behaviour and their thought processes.”¹⁴

So, at the present time, we’re still waiting for him to give us more information, over-and-above impacting people, working with our locals, supporting each other, and meeting as we need to. Then, we’ll have the right paradigm to operate properly as a Kingdom Community.

Mike Parsons has taught on this subject of not changing world systems, in this case, he was relating to the education system:

"I don't believe we can change a system which is fundamentally not God-created. Did God create the education system? No. But does God want to teach us? Yes? Does God want to communicate to us? Yes. Does he want to reveal himself to us? Yes. So, we have to look at, it's not just the system of Education, it's how people are educated and I don't believe that's ever going to come by someone trying to teach their knowledge or information. It's going to come by experience. Life experiences are way, way better than pieces of information you learn as a kid. Our experience with God and our relationship with God is what will bring about the knowledge and wisdom and understanding we need.

What we need to do is, rather than change a system which is fundamentally flawed, we need to encourage people to engage with The Truth, Jesus, the Spirit of Truth. When they begin to engage The Truth experientially, they will know the truth and the truth that they know will set them free. Information won't set you free. The truth that you know will set you free, and you have to know it by experience for it to become testimony and our testimony is powerful. Our testimony is the glory that we carry, the weight of what we know to be true by experience.

*So, we need to teach children how to experience God, how to have encounters with God, how to know him, so he'll teach them. No, I'm not saying they won't go to school or the education system per se won't have a part to play in them learning to read or write or anything else. [I'm] not knocking that. That's what the world we live in and there's certain things we need to know, but ultimately none of that is going to solve the world's problems. We need a deeper knowledge, a deeper experience, which is going to be transformatory, which will reveal the true nature of who we are. The school system doesn't teach you who you are. It teaches you information about how to live in the world, [that] you never ever use in the rest of your life...*

*Everyone should be educated according to their identity and purpose, not carte blanche, putting everyone in the same boat and saying this is the information you need to know. What's the point of giving someone a scientific education when they're a musician? Okay, there may be some mathematical things within music but generally someone who is born to be a musician needs to be trained in music...*

But how are you going to find out who were made to be? By engaging the Maker (the Creator) – discovering our identity and bringing our children up in the way God's designed them to be. Because that means they will begin to know what they need to know. They'll want to know things when you encourage them to be themselves. They'll be curious about the things in life that engage them. [But] you've got a whole load of creative people being forced to learn other things which are not helpful to them...

Now, I know there's a basic level of Education that everyone needs to have, but we need to help train people in who they really are, so they can discover and be creative in that way and find fulfilment...

So, I think the education system really needs to train people in who they are, so they can fulfil who they are, and then you'll have a whole load of people going around being who they are and blessing everyone else, who's being who they are. Because that's what Covenant is: Me being me, blesses you. You being you, blesses me, and we bless each other. That's what the world needs – a covenantal way of living in a form of blessing, not trying to make money. All the education system is designed to equip you to [do is] make money, to get a job. That's its premise. That's what's behind it all. But... when you are truly expressing who you are, there is a place in the world for you to be who you are and fulfil who you are in your destiny because your destiny scroll is an expression of Who You Are, it's not a list of tasks to fulfil as a outworking of your identity.

*That's what we need to educate people in. Help them to discover who they are and we'll find the world will be a very much happier place, when people are free to be themselves, not being pushed into some corporate mold.*¹⁵
