

Reprogramming Requires Reception Via Our Spirit

IMPORTANT 8 Reprogramming requires reception of input by our spirit, not our mind.

I've just completed an article, 'Deconstruction Without Relationship Is Dangerous'<sup>1</sup>, which outlines the need for an intimate relationship with the members of the Trinity so we don't get led astray by our corrupt mind and soul.

Even if a person thinks they have 'the mind of Christ', they are fooling themselves if they don't have an intimate relationship with the King (or Father), because we only have his mind if we're intimate enough with him to know it. This is where oneness is so important. Even with oneness, we may still believe lies and untruths, and these will need to be eliminated over time.

One of the things I was missing out on – which I didn't realise until around the year 2000 – was that speakers need to speak into my spirit. Yes, speaking into someone's spirit is the right way to transfer spiritual truths.

Words spoken into our spirit are the ones that Holy Spirit can work with for our inside-out change that's needed. Head knowledge – e.g. theology and Biblical knowledge – speaks to the mind, which we have control over and can be corrupt. However, what's spoken to the spirit can't be misinterpreted or ignored because our spirit hears clearly, without any corruption.

Pulpit teaching without depositing something in our spirit doesn't bring about the change that we need in our knowledge and understanding. I know that this is true because I spent 50 years under pulpit teaching and had to have a lot of it deprogrammed by Father.

You can see from what I've written so far why it's essential that our mind and soul need to be brought under the dominance of our spirit.<sup>2</sup> This is the best way to achieve the fastest reprogramming and reconstruction that's needed.

Mike Parsons has experienced deprogramming and reprogramming, just like myself. About this he writes:

"Nurture, environmental programming in my life: my upbringing, what has gone on around me, needs to be restored and renewed. Trauma, which is experiential programming, things I have experienced that cause me to respond in particular ways, needs reprogramming. I need to be transformed, restored to my original eternal condition. That is what God wants to happen here, in this realm; not just in eternity, because what happens here will determine what I do in eternity once time is finished."<sup>3</sup>

"Our spirit is surrounded by our soul. Our conscious mind is the outer layer of our soul, the connection between it and our body. We can have lies masquerading as truth in our subconscious...But just because we 'know' something does not make it true. Our strongholds defend our right to believe lies. We need them demolished so that lies can be replaced with truth, reprogramming the mind and renewing the heart..."

If we pursue transformation, God deals first with our behaviour. And if we persevere, beyond that there are still motives and roots that He will begin to address."<sup>4</sup>
