

Staying in His Presence

Staying in his presence, is not a Sunday activity during worship, or even regular daily soakings. No. It's a 24/7 activity that develops as we move into an intimate relationship with Father. Later, it becomes effortless and constant when we're in deep oneness with them, which is where he wants us to be.

For those who haven't experienced the life of living in Father's presence, here's a message from him to encourage you to move into it, or to go deeper:

“This is the life I’ve called you to every day—a life that remains connected to me, aware of me, and in agreement with me. This is the joy of walking with me—my tangible presence will never dissipate. If something frustrates you and tries to suffocate the awareness of my presence, simply turn your attention back to me. When you sense my presence lifting, it’s because you’ve become distracted by something else. I’m always here, always drawing you to myself. In all you do, pay attention to the glory of my love. Seek me first. Seek me continually.”¹

Life in the Kingdom is one of peace, rest, joy and fulfilment. You've just got to connect so you can live like that.
