

The Closer You Get to Father, the Less Questions You Need to Ask

I have been encouraging everyone to get their knowledge from the source of all knowledge – the Trinity, via the Spirit. This is a critically important component of living the Kingdom life in alignment with them. I have also demonstrated this process in the CCOP<sup>1</sup> messages that I distribute.<sup>2</sup>

This is the starting point to living in the natural realm and to be able to negotiate life's situations and circumstances. It's also important to help you find out what's going on around you and what Father has ahead for you. This is simply a function of our sonship, as we work together in a loving relationship with him.

What I have written so far in this article is about a basic level of sonship communication. Hearing from the Spirit is essential for living spiritually in alignment with Heaven, and asking questions and getting answers that you hear in your spirit, is one advanced step on top of that. Practice will make both of those a normal activity in your life.

However, we must mature and step out into higher levels of spiritual communication and connectivity. That's what Father expects of us. It's the same as myself as a parent. When my children were young, I encouraged them to 'grow up' and not stay kids any more. Our perfect Father wants the same for us. But, just like my children years ago, it was up to them how fast they allowed themselves to 'grow up' and mature into responsible adults.

One thing that will happen as you practise hearing with your spirit is that you'll discover that the Spirit is constantly communicating with your spirit. The result of that is that you'll know things, but don't know why you know them. That's because the Spirit has told your spirit already and your spirit has shared it with your mind. That's why, the closer you get to Father, the less questions you need to ask him, because he'll be communicating to you all the time, to prepare you, and you're picking up what he's passes on.

Yes, all of us still have a lot to learn about being a son.
