

The Tendency To Blame Others

The Spirit has released this important message to us, so it's best to read it and take it to heart.

“To those who have a tendency to blame others when you are struggling to live a life that you can be proud of, I tell you to do the best you can with what you have. Perfection is a very high bar that no one can actually reach and maintain. Give those around you the benefit of the doubt and be generous in your evaluations of them.”¹

It's sufficient the read it and let the Spirit show us where we need to make adjustments in this area so we align better with the way Father wants us to function as his sons.
