- ★ “Queensland child psychiatrist challenging gender ideology”
“Dr Jillian Spencer, a respected child and adolescent psychiatrist based in Queensland, is feeling the pressure that comes from acting “in line with her own convictions” as she challenges the requirement of her employer to conform to gender ideology in her workplace. Dr Spencer is expert in her field, with over 20 years of experience as a medical practitioner and 10 as a specialist psychiatrist. She has been open about preferring a cautious and holistic approach to the treatment of gender dysphoria cases, rather than an automatic ‘affirmation’ only approach. Her approach is consistent with growing international medical discourse on gender treatment for minors following investigations in the UK, Finland, Sweden, and the Netherlands. Nevertheless, this cautious approach is not permitted by the Queensland Children’s Hospital.”

“A London psychiatrist who spent 12 years working with children at the United Kingdom's government-funded Tavistock gender clinic is warning that “transitioning” patients to a new gender identity isn't the answer to gender dysphoria. Countries embracing “gender-affirming care” risk needless mass sterilization, Dr. Az Hakeem told The Epoch Times. He is the author of the new book “Detrans: When Transition is Not the Solution.” “I say affirmation therapy is not therapy—it's grooming” them to accept the idea they were born in the wrong body, said Dr. Hakeem, a fellow of the Royal College of Psychiatrists and honorary associate clinical professor at University College London Medical School.”

- “Australians Now Contemplating Whether ‘Woke’ Has Gone Too Far”

“The land of the "fair go," "mateship," and treating each other fairly are endearing and enduring Australian qualities. Into this ethos has crept the ubiquitous "Acknowledgement of Country" recitals of Australia's Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples at nearly every public event. It seems Australians are finally giving expression to their views on this overdone, virtue signalling, and patronising mantra—an initiative many Aboriginal leaders themselves decry as cringeworthy.”
