

What Heaven Looks Like is Not Vital at this Time

Yes, it's irrelevant. How we operate out of Heaven onto the face of the Earth is relevant, but not having a guided tour of it. What matters for sons is living out of there and impacting the world, while we live on the planet.

The reason for that is that heaven is our HQ, not our home – Earth is our home. Here is where we'll live in the next age, but we'll inhabit heaven and move around the universe (cosmos). However, knowing what it will be like in Heaven is a distraction at the present time as our role as sons is to live here and carry out Father's plans while we undertake our Kingdom assignments for the King.

For this reason, books like “Revealing Heaven: An eyewitness account” by Kat Kerr are not needed in our personal libraries, nor is there any need to study them.

READ: “MYSTERY: Heaven”<sup>1</sup> for more reasons for not focusing on Heaven as a place to think about, because our focus should primarily be on oneness with the Trinity. That's when we'll start being involved in extraterrestrial activities, not before.
